Showdown Nears in House In Bitter Income Tax Fight

Set Up Bangkok Council

SEATO Delegates Implement Treaty

BANGKOK (AP)—Manila Pact nations took specific steps today to implement the Southeast Asia Defense Treaty against Communist aggression and subversion south of Red China's borders.

The eight nation conference set up a Council of Representatives with ambassadorial status and headquarters in Bangkok.

Then the member nations approved the formation of a committee on military affairs. Military attaches attending the meeting went right to work, although few of them are expected to be on the permanent committee which will be named later.

Discuss Subversion

With that out of the way, the delegates swung into a discussion of antisubversion action and overall economic problems in this part of the world.

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles told the conference that a general answer to Red subversion would not be found in the present meeting. But he said the United States would be prepared to designate a security representative to sit with representatives of other nations and work out details of future plans.

A working paper submitted to the conference called for mutual assistance, exchange of information on suspected persons and their activities, propaganda, and exchange of information on the movements of known Communists.

The antisubversion subcomittee would meet anywhere in the SEATO area when called upon.

Three Plans Offered

Three economic plans were submitted.

One, from Pakistan, suggested a separate economic body meet in Karachi for its first meeting. The Philippines submitted a modified economic plan, and France submitted a third.

A spokesman said none of the plans had been adopted.

Harold Stassen, chief of the U.S. Foreign Operations Administration arrived from Manila just before the economic questions were taken up.

Stassen told the conference the United States recognized the importance of economic work in the SEATO area, and would cooperate with the other nations.

But the FOA chief said that while the United States would give preference to the Manila Pact nations, it would continue to aid such other Asian nations as Japan, Na-

Tanker Plane Explodes After Crash, 9 Killed

2 Others in Crew Safe After Parachute Leap In Dark Over Missouri

WINDSOR, Mo. (AP)—A four-engined Air Force tanker plane on a refueling training mission caught fire shortly after takeoff last night, crashed and exploded. Nine of the 11 men aboard were killed.

Two crewmen parachuted to safety as the flaming craft neared the ground.

The plane, which took off from the Sedalia Air Force base, crashed on a farm about six miles northwest of this central Missori town.

Trainman Sees Flash

A conductor riding in a caboose on a Rock Island freight train saw the huge craft flaming in the air.

"In a matter of seconds it had burst into a regular torch," said Asa Gunn, 62, Eldon, Mo., "and then it disappeared over a knoll ahead of the engine.

"There was an awful flash—it went way up in the air. I knew then the plane had crashed and exploded, though I couldn't hear the noise because of the train."

S. Sgt. Stanley C. Beach, Lambert Lake, Maine, and T. Sgt. Walter H. Polk, Knoxville, Tenn., were the two men who parachuted to safety.

'Big Explosion'

Mrs. D. D. Stiles, wife of the farmer on whose land the plane crashed, said she and her husband were eating dinner when they heard the roar of the plane's engines.

"Then there was a big explosion," she said. "The flash lighted up the whole house. My husband and I got on a tractor and went down to the scene but there wasn't much we could do except watch.

19-Day Crisis Ends

French Assembly Approves Cabinet

PARIS (AP)—Faced with a mass of accumulated big problems, ministers in Premier Edgar Faure's new government plunged today into the task of learning their jobs quickly in advance of urgent decisions.

The National Assembly ended a 19-day governmental crisis last night by approving 309-210 Faure's bid to head France's 21st postliberation government.

Only 4 Holdovers

But only 4 of the 20 ministers picked by Faure, a Radical Socialist (moderate), for his conservative-toned Cabinet served in the previous government of Pierre Mendes-France. And two of the four have different jobs.

While most of the ministers have had previous Cabinet experience, they must catch up on the details of their new posts before venturing far in policy decisions.

Faure held the Foreign Office in the closing days of Mendes-France's term, after previously serving as finance minister. He must check out Antoine Pinay, the new foreign affairs chief, on international questions.

Many Urgent Issues

These are the Cabinet's most urgent problems:

1. A budget only partially approved. The military budget has not even been submitted. The Assembly voted provisional funds to carry the government through January and February and probably will use the same device for March. The budget could cause Faure trouble since he firmly resisted demands for more spending under Mendes-France.

2. The Paris treaties to free and

Victory Seen By Democrats On $20 Slash

Ike's Supporters Face Uphill Battle To Line Up Opposition Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders predicted the House would pass a $20-a-person income tax cut in a bitter showdown late today. President Eisenhower's lieutenants sought to line up a solid "no" vote from Republicans.

Rep. Halleck (R-Ind) said "I think we'll succeed" in killing the tax cut move. Other key Republicans said privately the odds were against them. Both sides conceded the outcome might hinge on a handful of votes.

Would Slice Revenue

The democratic bill would provide a $20 tax cut, starting next Jan. 1, for each taxpayer and each dependent. It would reduce revenues about 815 million dollars for the fiscal year starting next July 1, and about $2,200,000,000 over a full year of operation.

Democrats wrapped this reduction into a package with Eisenhower's request to continue present corporation income and excise tax rates for one year. These rates are now scheduled to drop by almost three billion dollars annually April 1. There is almost no opposition to the extensions.

Republicans pinned their chief hope on knocking out the income tax cut in the Senate even if beaten in the House.

Blasted by President

At his news conference yesterday, Eisenhower said reducing taxes in the face of an estimated $2,300,000,000 federal deficit for the next fiscal year would be reaching "heights in fiscal irresponsibility."

Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex), bristling at the President's attack, suggested Republicans already had reached the peak of irresponsibility. He said that while cutting taxes last year when the anticipated federal deficit was almost twice the estimate now, the Republicans "didn't give the little folks anything."

CHARGES 'FISCAL IRRESPONSIBILITY'. President Eisenhower's face shows anger as he vigorously gestures in denouncing Democratic attempts to cut personal income taxes by $20 a year. In his Washington news conference, the President accused the Democrats of "fiscal irresponsibility."

67 Per Cent Hike Seen

Senate Okays Pay Boost for Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—A pay raise of at least 50 per cent was assured today for senators and House members. A 67 per cent boost—as voted by the House—appeared probable.

The Senate yesterday rolled up a big vote, 62-24, in favor of an increase in congressional pay from the present $15,000 to $22,500.

The measure was at once sent to conference with the House, which last week voted 283-118 for a $25,000 salary. Both versions include boosts of $7,500 to $10,000 for all the approximately 400 federal judges.

Joint Approval Likely

The five Senate conferees on the bill include several members who favor at least a $25,000 salary. This seemed to make it quite likely that the House figure would be accepted in the end.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn), heading the Senate group, told a reporter, "We will defend the Senate position as strongly as we can." But he added if House conferees are adamant, "we will have to make some adjustment."

The three House conferees all were strong backers of the $25,000 salary in that body.

Kefauver told the Senate yesterday he thought a $25,000 salary was "fully justified," and Senators Kilgore (D-WVa) and Dirksen (R-Ill), other conferees, have supported a $27,500 figure recommended last year by a special commission.

First Since 1946

The salary boost will be the first since 1946 for the lawmakers. However, since then they have voted themselves an income tax deduction of up to $3,000 for living expenses in Washington. This is not affected by the pay legislation.

The Senate bill contains one bonus not included by the House. This would allow expenses for five trips to members' home states each year, in addition to the 20 cents a mile they now receive for one round trip.

Before passing the bill, the Senate overwhelmingly defeated a series of alternatives that would have whittled away some or all of the raise.

Vice President Nixon and House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) are assured of a $5,000 raise to $45,000 each. Both bills contain this.

Vote for Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) —Ohio Republican Sens. John Bricker and George Bender yesterday voted in favor of a bill increasing congressional salaries from $15,000 to $22,500, and providing comparable increases for federal judges. The bill passed by a 62-24 Senate vote.

Not Ike's Fault Rayburn Didn't Have Messages

WASHINGTON (AP)—A wastebasket held the solution today to the mystery of what has been happening to Speaker of the House Rayburn's advance copies of messages President Eisenhower has been sending to Congress.

They've been going to the wastebasket instead of to the speaker because of a breakdown in Democratic communication lines. And that discovery, after a little diligent digging by newsmen, may have averted a potential rift between the government's legislative and executive branches.

It's a good bet that from now on Rayburn will get his copies.

It seems that Republican House

State Puts Heat On Bingo Club In Scioto Area

Padlock Authority Sought on Big Game Run in Wheelersburg

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Vernon Smith has set a hearing this morning on a state move to padlock a big bingo game at the Chez Paree in Wheelersburg, Scioto County.

Judge Smith set the hearing after a conference late yesterday with Asst. Atty. Gen. Robert B. Krupansky. The state has asked a temporary restraining order against operation of the club.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche earlier announced he and the attorney general would start proceedings against bingo operation.

Scioto County Prosecutor William H. Harsha Jr. said the Chez Paree is reportedly a "charitable setup."

But Harsha said he plans to introduce facts on the Chez Paree to the May 1 term of the county grand jury, regardless of action on the state move.

Lausche's statement on the case said:

"We do not contemplate, generally entering counties of Ohio to take care of law enforcement duties that can and should be per-

West Germans Open Debate on Paris Treaties

Police Cordon Placed Around Parliament To Stop Demonstrations

BONN, Germany (AP) — Armed antiriot police cordoned off West Germany's Parliament building today as the Bundestag (lower house) opened a crucial three-day debate on the Paris Treaties to arm 500,000 Germans for Western defense.

Most observers agreed with government predictions the pacts would win final approval despite the bitter opposition of many West Germans.

With the nation apparently split nearly down the middle, authorities prepared for possible disturbances by bringing in 500 special police reserves to augment the capital's 800-man force.

Officers armed with pistols, carbines and nightsticks stood guard around the modernistic Parliament Building on the banks of the Rhine. Water cannon were parked at strategic street corners to sweep any belligerent demonstrators off their feet.

The Soviet zone radio has been blaring calls to West Germans to riot against the treaties. In Bavaria, the state's Trade Union Fed-

Senator Wants U.S. To Defend Quemoy, Matsu

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said today he believes Secretary of State Dulles wants the Quemoy and Matsu islands held as a potential threat against the Red China mainland.

Smith joined Rep. Richards (D-SC) in urging the Eisenhower administration to defend the two islands off south China and to resist what both said would be intensified British efforts to have the Chinese Nationalists abandon them.

Richards, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said yesterday secret testimony before Congress passed the defend - Formosa resolution convinced him that the administration has decided to defend the two islands. He called on the administration to say so publicly.

Smith and Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said they had received no clear-cut impression that any decision to defend Quemoy and Matsu had been made.

Rep. Zablocki (D-Wis) said he got the same impression as Richards, but Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) said in a separate interview House testimony did not produce a specific statement that the islands would be defended.

Senator Raps Harlan for His Views on U.N.

Johnston Fears Ike's Choice for Supreme Court Internationalist

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) said today he opposes John Marshall Harlan's appointment to the Supreme Court because he fears the jurist would put the United Nations above the U.S. Constitution.

This view was disputed by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn), Another Judiciary Committee member, Sen. Daniel (D-Tex), said he intends to question Harlan on whether he favors partial surrender of national sovereignty to international organizations.

"Rather serious charges have been made against Judge Harlan, but whether there is any merit in them I don't know," Daniel said.

As it prepared to start closed-door hearings on Harlan's nomination, the Judiciary Committee said about 14 witnesses have asked to be heard—some in favor and others in opposition to confirmation.

Harlan, a judge of the 2nd Circuit Court of Appeals in New York, was named last Nov. 9 to fill the Supreme Court vacancy

FCC Reversed On Ownership Of TV Stations

U.S. Appeals Court Kills Rule Limiting Multiple Operations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals today knocked out a Federal Communication Commission rule limiting the number of television stations which may be owned by the same interests. The decision was unanimous.

The court said "the selection of a certain number, such as five or seven, as the maximum beyond which no multiple owner will be permitted to go, regardless of what he may be able to show in his own behalf," is contrary to provisions of the Communications Act.

The ruling applied specifically only to the commission's multiple ownership rule for television stations. But it was so broad in language that it appeared to cover similar limitations for radio stations if they were directly challenged.

The test of the commission's multiple ownership rule for television was brought by the Storer Broadcasting Co., whose application for a TV station in Miami was denied on the ground it already had an interest in five television outlets.

At the time, the commission's TV multiple ownership ceiling was five TV stations. Subsequently, the limit was raised to seven, provided at least two of the stations were operated on ultra-high frequencies. Un-

Gas Line Break Chills 100,000 In Topeka, Kan.

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Residents of this city of nearly 100,000 and seven other communities shivered in subfreezing temperatures today after a pipeline break cut off the area's gas supply.

The majority of homes use natural gas for heating.

Appliance stores reported a run on electric heaters. There also was a rush to buy ready-cooked foods.

The break in the 16-inch transmission line of the Cities Service Gas Co. was caused by a defective weld. It has been repaired, but it may be 24 hours before service can be resumed to all buildings.

Workmen had to turn off each individual connection and then turn them all back on again. The disconnections are necessary to eliminate all hazards when the gas pressure is restored.

Approximately 32,000 homes and business places were affected.

Heavy use of electricity in heaters and cooking ranges overloaded power lines. The power and light company appealed to residents to turn off all ranges not being used for cooking purposes.

Hospitals, most commercial establishments and industries have a standby fuel such as oil and were not affected.

Most schools were dismissed. They are heated by standby fuels but the city opened them to families as emergency shelters.

Other communities affected in addition to this state capital are Valley Falls, Oskaloosa, Ozawkie, Meriden, Perry, Lecompton and Grantville. All have populations of 1,500 or less.

4 Bonding Bids Offered On City Parking Garage

Four proposals from municipal bonding companies for purchase of bonds to pay for a municipal parking garage at the corner of S. Prospect St. and W. Church St. were received by city officials Wednesday.

Harold Fralich, chairman of the Lands and Buildings committee, reported this morning his committee would meet Saturday to compare the proposals submitted and probably will make a report to City Council Monday night.

ALL THE BIDS were submitted by combinations of several different companies. Two were received from a Cincinnati combine operating under the name of Pohl and Co. Another Cincinnati group, going by the name of Weil, Roth and Irving Co., also submitted a bid. The fourth proposal was made by a three-firm syndicate from Toledo. Included in the syndicate were the Braun, Bosworth and Co., Stranahan, Harris and Co. and Roose and Co.

A fifth proposal was received after the noon deadline, Fralich said.

The decision to accept the proposals for study was made at the council meeting of Jan. 24. At that time, representatives of bonding companies gave explanations of their programs, stating that other cities had issued revenue bonds to pay for needed improvements.

THE REVENUE BONDS for payment of such installations as parking lots are comparatively new in Ohio, officials of bonding companies pointed out in the January meeting. Those officials said that Cincinnati and Elyria had issued the bonds to pay for off-street parking.

Included in two of the bond proposals Wednesday were agreements to make surveys to determine the feasibility of Marion building an off-street garage. The survey would determine if the garage would pay for itself and how long it would take to retire the

Route 4 Remains Closed by Water

State Route 4 at Newmans, near Prospect, remained closed today as high waters from the Scioto River still covered part of the road. State Highway department officials here reported the water was receding and the road might be opened later today.

Fairly mild winter weather prevailed over the eastern part of the country today while stormy weather spread over broad areas of the mid-continent.

For Marion and the area, the forecast tonight is rather cloudy with light rain or snow likely. Friday is expected to be cloudy with light snow or rain and becoming colder.

Special Hours Planned For Collection of Taxes

With the deadline for real estate property tax payments, March 1, drawing near, special hours will be observed by the county treasurer's office this weekend.

On Friday the office will be open from 7 to 8 p.m. for the convenience of those unable to get to the Courthouse during the day. Saturday the office will be open until 3 p.m. Ordinarily, the treasurer's office is closed at noon on Saturdays.

The office will also remain open through the noon hour up to and including Tuesday.

Top Financial Problems

School, Health Programs Await Lausche's Budget

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The keystone to Ohio's problems for the next two years—the budget—will fall into place Monday night.

It is one of the last, but one of the most important, bills to be introduced before the 101st General Assembly.

It will be submitted by Gov. Frank J. Lausche in person. It is exactly one month late. It should have been submitted Feb. 1, but was delayed by the death of Herbert D. Defenbacher, the state's finance director.

Assembly Awaits Figures

The state's two most pressing problems — the financing of the school subsidy and the mental health program—have been held up until the governor could give the Legislature a firm estimate of the amount of tax money available for spending in the next two years.

The state budget, which some predict will run as high as 800 million dollars, is the work of the new finance director, John M. Wilcoxon. The 800 million figure would be nearly 150 millions above the last two-year budget.

Republican legislative leaders are confident Wilcoxon will give them a "more realistic" estimate of the state's income than did Defenbacher —a trranditionally cautious man who would rather have seen a surplus than a deficit at the end of the two-year budget. Defenbacher saw many a surplus never a deficit.

Will Set Limit

Monday's budget bill will give the Legislature a spending limit into which it must fit the countless requests for more money.

Yesterday was another relatively quiet day in the Legislature as lawmakers marked time on major money bills. The two houses passed six bills in brief sessions.

The senate passed and sent to the House bills permitting renewal of liquor licenses held by the liquor department for safekeeping and authorizing assignment of common

Frozen Soup Is an Aid to Lenten Meals

Curry-Shrimp Sauce on Rice With Eggs Is Luncheon Idea

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

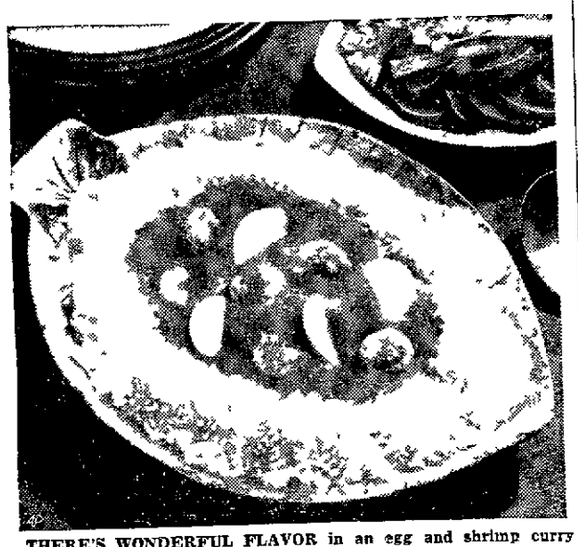
Lenten and other meals will benefit from some of the frozen soups now on the market We have tried four of them—fish chowder, cream of potato, oyster stew and cream of shrimp—and there is no new food product we are more enthusiastic about

Although all four of these soups are delicious as is, we have found that they can be varied beautifully. In addition the oyster stew and the cream of shrimp varieties make out-of-this-world sauces for main dishes.

Our favorite way with the fish chowder is to prepare it according to the directions on the can and just before serving to stir in dried crushed dill leaf We mean dill leaf, not dill seed, and it can be added by pinches to suit your taste With this flavor change the frozen chowder rivals the divine fish soup served at a well-known Finnish restaurant in New York City

The cream of potato soup also benefits from dried crushed dill leaf. Another way to vary the flavor of and give color to the potato soup is to add minced parsley and finely-grated raw carrot (separately or together) to it The soup is also a wonderful vehicle for using up leftover cooked vegetables If you keep a bottle of capers in your refrigerator for salad garnishing, you'll find a tablespoon or so of the capers do well in the cream of potato soup, too. And you can make a wondrously pretty coral-colored soup from the cream of potato by adding canned pimiento, a recipe for this version follows

The oyster stew has a lovely delicate flavor just as it comes from the can with the addition of milk or light cream But it also makes a fine main dish this way



THERE'S WONDERFUL FLAVOR in an egg and shrimp curry when it is made with new frozen condensed soup.

Put the 10-ounce can of frozen condensed oyster stew in a saucepan and stir over low heat until melted Then fish out the oysters with a slotted spoon and reserve (You are going to thicken the liquid part of the stew and you don t want to toughen the oysters over the heat the sauce will need) Now stir a couple of tablespoons of flour together with a couple of tablespoons of cold water until no lump is left Add the flour paste to the hot soup and cook and stir constantly until thickened and bubbly Add the reserved oysters and a cup or more flaked cooked fish fillets and reheat gently without boiling Use a mild-flavored white-meated fish —perch or flounder are fine—so the delicate taste of the original oyster stew won t be overpowered Spoon the fish and oysters over crisp hot toast and sprinkle with paprika Or press a hard-cooked egg through a small strainer over the fish for a garnish

And finally the superb cream of shrimp We used this soup recently as the base for a curry sauce for hard cooked eggs served over rice As a luncheon dish this combination made a great hit with our guests Three of us lapped it up! We are giving you this recipe with a very modest amount of curry—add more if you like your curry hot With this dish we had a tossed green salad with a honey-fruit juice dressing We don t as a rule like green salads with sweet dressings, but because we did not offer the usual chutney it was welcome with the curry For dessert we had a filled and frosted cake All in all a good company lunch If you serve this curry dish during Lent, fruit and cheese may be substituted for the cake

SLICED EGGS WITH CURRY-SHRIMP SAUCE

Ingredients 1 can (10 ounces) frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup ½ cup milk ½ teaspoon curry powder 3 hard-cooked eggs (sliced), 2 cups (about) cooked rice

Method: Put soup, milk and curry powder in a saucepan over low heat, stir often until thoroughly heated Arrange sliced eggs over rice and pour curry-shrimp sauce over Serve at once Makes 2 servings

Note. You will need to cook 2 3 cup raw rice in order to have the amount of cooked rice called for

CORAL SOUP

Ingredients 1 can (10¼ ounces) frozen condensed cream of potato soup, water, 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento, minced chives or green onion

Method Put soup in a saucepan Add a soup can full of water Heat slowly stirring often until soup is melted Cool and pour into electric blender, adding pimiento Run until smooth Reheat and sprinkle each serving with minced chives or green onion. Makes 3 servings

Lower Priced Furniture for Home Forecast

CHICAGO (UP) — The day may come when housewives will get their new furniture from machines which consume raw logs at one end and turn out almost finished chairs and tables at the other.

G Maurice Hill, vice president of a Drexel, N C furniture company, told at the recent home furnishings shows here of research being conducted by the industry to provide homes with better furniture at less cost

The problem Hill said is to get the home maker to accept the new patterns and materials

"It might involve a change in the family's entire way of life," he said

"But it'll be a much better happier, far more comfortable and much more beautiful way of life"

The dream of furniture makers he said is to achieve a degree of automation comparable to that enjoyed by appliance manufacturers whose machines virtually gobble up steel ingots and disgorge finished refrigerators, washers and ranges

But to enjoy the benefits of cheaper faster-made furniture the homemaker must be willing to take into her home products which are more standardized than at present or which are made up of standard units into various pieces, Hill said

It will be up to the advertisers promotion men and merchandisers to convince Mrs America that she can have a prettier and more comfortable home by using the new materials

Meanwhile research workers are constantly studying new methods of manufacture

Plastic materials made of wood chips hold great promise as do the metals and various other new textiles and materials

"If he housewife will only give them a fair trial rather than demanding "traditional" features, she'll find that her family's comfort will be greatly enhanced," Hill said

Reds Seek To Undermine Goodwill

U.S. Prestige at Stake in Jap Elections

By RAY FALK

TOKYO (NANA) — When Japan's voters go to the polls in the general elections Sunday, one of the strongest influences on the way they cast their ballots will be Japanese-American relations.

Mutual security aid from the U. S., the stationing of American troops in Japan, Japanese relations with Communist China and Russia are the major campaign topics furiously debated by Conservative and Socialist candidates running for the House of Representatives.

The two conservative parties—the Liberals and the Democrats—want to continue pretty much the existing relationship with the United States. The Democrats want to cut the financial support Japan gives to the American forces stationed here. Both parties favor a gradual increase in the strength of Nippon's own armed forces.

The left-wing Socialists call for the withdrawal of American troops and the abolition of Japan's army and navy. They are absolute neutralists. The right-wing Socialists are somewhat more moderate. Theirs is a lukewarm opposition to rearmament. They are not opposed to some security arrangement with the United States but they are not entirely satisfied with the present disposition of the U.S. security forces.

REGARDING THE question of trade with Communist China and Russia, the conservative parties desire that such commerce be expanded within the limits of the export bans imposed by the western world. The Socialists want to sell everything including iron and steel goods, chemical products, machinery and ships, and ships.

The parties are somewhat hazy in their stands on the resumption of normal relations with Peiping and Moscow. Japan is still technically at war with both capitals and no one is quite clear as to how the impasse can be breached. The two Communist giants object to Japan's close ties with the West, and the Japanese are demanding the return of imprisoned Japanese, the return of the Habomai Islands and, if possible, the Kuriles and free fishing in international waters.

The remaining issues are all internal problems concerning housing, taxation and business.

The unexpected development in recent weeks has been the growing popularity of the Democratic party, headed by Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama. This is interpreted here as a reflection of the unpopularity of the previous regime under Shigeru Yoshida.

THE PRIME minister, although crippled by a stroke, has toured the country, talking frankly about national issues. The response has been spontaneous popular support. This is in contrast to Yoshida's secretiveness and high-handed attitude.

How this will be translated at the polls is not discernible at this time. Competent Japanese observers predict that the Liberals will decrease their Diet strength from 180 to 120 seats, the Democrats will jump from 120 to 180 seats and the two Socialist groups will forge ahead from 135 seats to somewhere between 160 and 180. At the moment the left-wing Socialists hold 74 seats against the right-wingers 61 seats.

If these predictions materialize, Hatoyama will form the next government with the support of the Liberals. Many Japanese express the hope that after the election the two conservative factions will get together to form one, solid conservative party.

THE SOCIALISTS also have been talking merger but they are still far apart. Ideologically their differences are great. The left-wingers are Marxists. The right-wingers are Fabian Socialists. Merger will depend on which of the wings gains the upper hand. The Fabians are scared to be sucked up by their fellow-traveling namesakes. Should the Socialists gain enough seats to give them a chance to participate in a coalition government. They might bury their differences for the sake of power.

Japanese labor unions intend to take an active part in the election. Sohyo (the general council of trade unions) plans to demand 100 yen contributions from each of its 3,000,000 members. Sohyo has entered 39 labor leaders in the race, besides giving financial backing to professional socialist politicians. The council will donate three times as much to left-wing socialists as to right-wing. Sohyo's total contribution this year will be more than twice as much as during the April 1953 general elections.

The Communists are not expected to fare too well. Several of their leaders have come out of hiding to run for office. They place some hope on Russia's current peace offensive toward Japan. It isn't so wise in Japan today to vote communist. A voter can voice his opposition to the government more efficiently by voting left-wing Socialist and his loyalty won't be challenged.

Red Traffic Signs Gain in Popularity

CHICAGO (UP) — Red STOP signs may ultimately replace the familiar yellow-and-black signs at the nation's highway intersections.

At least 16 states are switching to the red signs, the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. reported, and additional states are considering the move.

The red signs are better, many safety experts believe, because not enough motorists pay attention to the yellow signs.

A test by Florida officials showed that only 15 to 20 per cent of the motorists came to a full stop at intersections where the old yellow-and-black sign was used.

But when a vivid red sign with glowing white letters was substituted at the test sites, observance jumped to from 50 to 60 per cent.

In Cook County, Ill., a study at 63 different STOP signs showed that more than four of every 10 drivers failed to bring their cars to a complete halt.

The red signs are not a new idea. In 1924, the National Hoover Conference recommended red as the national standard for STOP signs, but it was found that the color then available did not retain the original hue long and that it appeared to be almost black at night.

ALWAYS CHECK

WAUKESHA, Wis. (UP) — An Oconomowoc, Wis., man apparently should have checked a little bit more. He drew a one year suspended sentence in municipal court here because he cashed a $25 check on a Kenosha bank which has not been in existence for 30 years.

LUCKY BOY. Two and one-half year old George Machette is comforted by his mother, Mrs. Lena Machette, in South General Hospital in Glen Burnie, Md., after he was rescued from a 20-foot well into which he fell. Digging frantically, police and volunteer rescue workers got him out, apparently unhurt, after being trapped for almost three hours.

Teachers Repay Debt

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (UP) — The sixth grade students had saved their pennies for days for refreshments as an after-school treat.

When the sum was large enough, two students went to a grocery and came back with 28 doughnuts, which were left on the school principal's desk.

Teachers, thinking the doughnuts were left over from a PTA meeting, ate 23.

The teachers hurriedly made up the deficit when they discovered whose doughnuts they had been eating.

Cardington Council Pollution Official, Discuss Sewerage

CARDINGTON — An official from the state Water Pollution Control Board and a Columbus contractor met with Cardington Village Council at its regular session Monday night to discuss a revision of plans for a sewerage system in the village.

Mr. Hoyt, representing the Water Pollution Control Board, Mr. Loveless of the A. E. Stilson Contracting Co. of Columbus, and village councilmen discussed plans for installing sewers and a sewerage system in Cardington. The original sewerage plans were started in 1947, but village officials believed the cost of the system to be too heavy for the village. The state pollution control board recently requested that the village install a sewerage system.

No decision was reached at the Monday night Council session and the discussion will probably be carried over until the next regular meeting.

Is Overweight A Family Trait?

Not unless you belong to the elephant family. In over ninety-nine per cent of the cases, overweight is simply due to overeating. If you are overweight you will be interested in this letter from Sidney J. Wilson, Jr., R. 6, Medina, Ohio. Mr. Wilson writes: "Rennel Concentrate was recommended to me by a very good friend of mine. He told me how he was losing weight and how Rennel Concentrate had done wonders for him. The first week using Rennel I lost 7 lbs. Now my wife is also using Rennel and we both are obtaining wonderful results. Along with losing weight, we have so much more pep than we had before."

Thousands of others have overcome the social and physical discomfort of being overweight with this effective home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Insist on and be sure to get Rennel.

Riverlake Belt Opponents Hit Plan at Hearing

Stream of Witnesses Testify at Meeting Of General Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A stream of witnesses last night attacked the proposed Lake Erie-to-Ohio River cargo conveyor belt as an unnecessary project which could cost thousands of men their jobs.

Their testimony largely followed the pattern of opposition in the two previous unsuccessful attempts of Riverlake Belt Conveyor Lines, Inc., to get a legislative grant of the right of eminent domain for a right-of-way for its 100-mile project from Cleveland to East Liverpool.

The hearing before the House Commerce and Transportation Committee will be continued next week, said Chairman Louis J. Schneider Jr. (R-Hamilton).

All witnesses before the committee last night were opponents. They included farm, labor union and railroad representatives.

The farm representative was Clarence Krueger of Erie County, legislative agent for the Ohio Grange. He said the Grange convention two years ago opposed the conveyor's bid for public utility status. Under questioning, however, he admitted the Grange failed to act on a similar resolution last year. He told the committee:

"If our present transportation system today is adequate, then there is no reason to expand in the way the belt conveyor people propose.

"Farmers are interested in transportation, because they are double-lucky—they pay both ways. They pay for hauling the goods they sell and they pay for hauling the goods they buy."

Then he added:

"I don't think the farmers feel they are going to derive any direct benefit from the proposed conveyor."

Three union leaders followed: Lee C. Ferguson, Lorain, representing United Mine Workers' District 50; Roy A. Denman, Toledo, president of the AFL Brotherhood of Longshoremen, and L. A. Daniels, Columbus, representing the CIO Transport Workers of America.

All three told the committee the Riverlake project would destroy the jobs of dock and railroad workers and increase unemployment in the state's heavily industrialized areas, Denman said bluntly:

"We want you to kill this bill and save our jobs for us."

He said he represented 598 longshoremen at the Presque Isle docks of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad near Toledo. The average age of the longshoremen at that rail-to-ship facility, he said, is just under 50. At that age, he told the committee, men have difficulty finding new jobs.

The other principal witness last night, as opponents hammered at the novel form of transportation which proposes to haul iron ore and coal, was Ed Rupp, Baltimore, Md., assistant to the vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Rupp declared:

"Riverlake wants to take the cream off the top of the transportation business in Ohio. If the belt conveyor is built, the railroad would lose 50 per cent of its ore business each year.

"The belt people have no regard for the welfare of the people of Ohio. The conveyor would reduce the ability of railroads to meet their other public responsibilities."

Depot Presented Award

COL. JOHN F. PHELAN (left), commanding officer of the Marion Engineer Depot, accepts an Award of Merit for practices in hiring the handicapped from Col. G. Fred Graf of Findlay, commanding officer of the 148th Infantry Battalion.

The award was made at the regular meeting of the supervisors club at the depot Wednesday noon. It was presented by Col. Graf for the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped.

Last month, the depot was given an award by the American Legion for its record in hiring handicapped veterans.

At the time the survey for the President's Committee award was made last October, there were 118 handicapped persons employed by the depot or 14 per cent of the total number of employes.

Following the presentation of the award, Col. Phelan presented safety plaques to the car blockers division for a record of nine years without an accident, to the internal rail division for going 10 years without a lost-time accident, and to the miscellaneous services division for the best improvement in safety record during the last year.

LaRue Burglary Results In 'Haul' of Only $1.90

Burglars who broke into the Farm Bureau building in LaRue Tuesday evening netted ony $1.90 sheriff's deputies reported today. The building was entered through a broken window, deputies believe.

After gaining entrance to the machinery room, the burglars went into the store room where they littered the floor with merchandise and took the money from the cash register. The break-in was discovered by Walter Schwaderer of near New Bloomington, who told deputies he had gone to the building to do some work.

Try at Ousting of Wilmington Postmaster on Agenda in Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats on the Senate Post Office Committee may take up the Ohio case of Wilmington Postmaster James F. Smith in a few weeks.

The Post Office Department tried to discharge Smith, but he obtained a court order permitting him to keep his job temporarily. Then he asked the Senate Post Office Committee to investigate his attempted firing.

A committee representative told a reporter that Smith's record, as outlined by the Post Office Department, is in the committee files. But he said no action will be taken on Smith's request for an investigation until the committee's new staff is organized.

"We have about 500 cases in which postmasters have been removed under questionable circumstances," the aide said. "We don't know yet which ones will merit investigation."

Another reason for the delay on such investigations, he said, is a pending resolution in the Senate asking for $75,000 to finance an overall survey on the civil service merit system. Postmasters come under civil service. If the resolution passes, investigations will be wider in scope.

Smith has lost all of his appeals before the Civil Service Commission. According to a letter written to the Senate Post Office Committee by Post Office solicitor Abe Goff, Smith was ordered discharged because:

1. He was accused of not keeping his required hours.

2. He was accused of treating his employes in a manner that resulted in "loss of respect and loyalty" for him.

3. His post office had an unsatisfactory rating on Oct. 21-22 in 1953.

4. He was accused of failing to file a quarterly report in September 1953, turning it in after Nov. 12, 1953.

Censorship in Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Government censorship has been slapped on the newspaper El Espectador because it printed a story that the 5-centavo loaf of bread would disappear and the 10-centavo loaf would be reduced in size. Although the story was later confirmed as true, the government information office said such reports injured the nation's economy.

GALIONITES GIVE TO FUND

GALION—Under the direction of Robert Swearingen, chairman, the Heart Fund campaign in Galion Sunday afternoon netted $1,600.19. There were 150 women participating in a two-hour house-to-house canvass in Galion. Workers reported to headquarters at Hotel Talbott. They were treated to coffee supplied by the hotel and sweet rolls donated by the Model and Maloy bakeries.

Reason for Rejoicing

Marion has just cause for rejoicing today. Wednesday's announcement that the Motor Products Corp. plant had been sold to the Whirlpool Corp. of St. Joseph, Mich., gives this community a tremendous "shot in the arm."

The psychological effect will be felt immediately. The specter of a large and beautiful plant standing almost idle since last August admittedly has cast a shadow on this city's business and economic picture.

In retrospect the amazing thing about the whole situation has been the undaunted manner in which business people and the citizenry met the problem created by the plant's shutdown. Because the bulk of them refused to be dismayed, the impact of what seemed, at the outset, to be a major crisis proved much less than originally was feared.

Nevertheless, the specter has hovered someplace in the background and it is great news that the weight of its presence has been lifted. In its manufacture of automatic clothes dryers here the company expects to hit a peak employment of 1,500 sometime next year, and when that time comes it will be one of Marion's largest employers. From the day it begins pilot production next fall its value as an asset to the community will be tremendous.

We extend a most cordial welcome to this new member of Marion's industrial family. We hope sincerely that, as the years pass, the firm's officials will have every reason to feel that their decision to enter the Marion picture was a wise one.

We naturally think it was. But we're also aware of the responsibility which falls upon all of us, over the long pull, to justify the confidence they have placed in us.

We know it will be, and that the newcomers soon will share our pride in Marion as it moves steadily along the highway of community progress.

The Navy's Role

There is nothing particularly surprising in Admiral Robert B. Carney's concept of the Navy's role in any new world war.

The chief of naval operations pictures sea control as an elemental consideration no matter what kind of a war is fought.

What is surprising is that the admiral, unlike many of his counterparts in other branches of the service, notably the Air Force, does not necessarily expect an atomic war to be a short war.

And he points to a vast Russian naval building program as "conclusive evidence that they are not contemplating a short war."

Admiral Carney believes that in an atomic holocaust massive blows would continue as long as either side retained the capability.

"With the passing of the initial phase, and if the issue is still unresolved," he said in an address in Cincinnati recently, "tough people would carry on across the radioactive ashes and water with what weapons are left. . ."

That's a rather dismal prospect and is in sharp contrast to the impression we believe most people have that one or two massive blows could conceivably knock an enemy out.

If Admiral Carney was just trying to prove how important is the Navy to our survival, he needn't have been so graphic about it. We, too, believe the Navy will play a vital role, no matter what the future may bring.

But the BIG BLOWS will have to be struck by the Air Force.

Better yet, we hope it will not be necessary to strike ANY blows or to prove that any branch of the service is more indispensable than the other.

Especially Alice

The U.S. Weather Bureau is stuck on Alice. It admits there are other names just as good for all subsequent storms, but Alice is No. 1 among the big winds.

Other names on the list in the 1955 hurricane season will be: Brenda, Connie, Edith, Flora, Gladys, Hilda, Ione, Janet, Katie, Linda, Martha, Nelly, Orva, Peggy, Queena, Rosa, Stella, Trudy, Ursa, Verna, Wilma, Xenia, Yvonne and Zelda.

Last year's names, after Alice, were: Barbara, Carol, Dolly, Edna, Florence, Gilda, Hazel, Irene, Jill, Katherine, Lucy, Mabel, Norma, Orpha, Patsy, Queen, Rachel, Susie, Tina, Una, Vicky and Wallis.

The bureau has shrugged off all criticism based on the assumption that storms are violent and women are not, therefore storms should not be named after women. It says it chooses names that are short and familiar; that there is no connection with the nature of women; that weathermen aren't even thinking about women.

That's ridiculous. Women are connected with everything and men never quit thinking about them. Men name horses, mules, airplanes, automobiles and colors after women. They name trucks, machines, ships, fancy dishes and wearing apparel after them. For a weather bureaucrat to say he is not thinking of Alice when he plots the course of a storm and hopes it will blow out to sea is as ridiculous as to assume a mule driver just happened to name his constant companion with a five-letter word spelled A-l-i-c-e.

Want To Go Whole Hog?

By David Lawrence

Confiscatory Taxation Is Goal of All Socialists

There's an even more penetrating way to "share the wealth," as the late Huey Long phrased it, than the Democratic party leaders have thought of with their $20 cut in taxes for everybody. It's equally logical and it could mean an even bigger potential in vote getting.

Thus there are about 55 million citizens with incomes under $5,000 a year This is a sizeable number of voters and enough to win an election if they vote solely on selfish grounds.

A scheme could be devised to free this entire group from the payment of any federal taxes whatsoever. It would cost the Treasury of the United States 8½ billion dollars. But if demagoguery is to be the rule, then there's a simple way to make it up — just increase the taxes of the persons with incomes of $25,000 a year or more. They're paying 8¾ billions a year already. The addition of 8½ billions in tax payments would, of course, virtually confiscate the incomes of the most thrifty and the most successful citizens. Confiscation, however, is the eventual goal of the socialists, and the Democratic party is rapidly becoming the socialistic party in America anyway.

IT SO HAPPENS that there are about 800,000 taxpayers in this country whose incomes are $25,000 a year or over. They pay more in total taxes than do the 55 million who have incomes under $5,000 a year. They are carrying the heaviest tax burden already.

If the "share the wealth" doctrine is to become dominant, it would mean the eventual destruction of incentive and a consequent drop in the incomes of all persons now earning incomes over $5,000 a year. The goal of communism — as well as of its twin brother, socialism — is to do away with the managerial class or so to weaken its spirit as to cause the whole private - enterprise system to collapse.

Union labor, which has thrived under the system of risk capital, would not be able to get the increases in wages or pension benefits now enjoyed if the management class in America were wiped out as it has been in Soviet Russia or in countries where state capitalism is in vogue.

IT IS A PARADOX that the labor union leaders in America have lined themselves up politically with the Democratic party, whose latest program confirms a suspicion that the party is bent on impairing the very economic system that has benefitted labor so widely. But the rank and file of the workers do not have much to say about the political maneuvers of the labor bosses.

Their dues, which are supposed to be used for union benefits, are applied to pay big salaries to executives of the unions who spend a large part of their time in political activities.

Also, by the use of the compulsory unionization law, the union bosses hold the power of economic life or death over the worker and, unless he goes along with the political - campaign programs, even though they lead to socialistic ends, the ordinary union member can lose his job as a punishment for failing to conform.

The Democratic party in the last election said through its leaders that it would support the President and promised also to favor policies of fiscal soundness. The Democratic - controlled Congress has been in session less than two months, and it is becoming crystal clear that such campaign pledges have already been abandoned.

A pattern of strategy is emerging. The Democratic leaders favor more and more spending — more billions for all kinds of socialistic adventures, including a program of government - owned electric - light-and - power projects. They also favor more and more exemptions from taxation for the maximum number of voters.

Both approaches, while contradictory from any standpoint of fiscal soundness, mean a budget unbalanced by a wide margin. Then the Democratic party spokesmen will claim that the Eisenhower administration has failed to balance the budget as promised in 1952.

IT IS BEGINNING to look as if the 1954 election was very costly to the American people because it was influenced by the most deceptive piece of campaigning that the country has ever witnessed. The Democratic argument was that a depression was coming and that the number of unemployed would increase.

It turns out now that the mild recession was short - lived and that business is booming because, in making 1955 plans, business men have had confidence in the fiscal policies of the Eisenhower administration.

They expanded facilities after making a remarkable adjustment to the post - Korean War shrinkages in government spending.

If, however, the budget is to be heavily unbalanced and the Democratic party in Congress — which never balanced a budget in 20 years — is to continue in power after the next election, the country will experience a real inflation. That would come from a rapid increase in the cost of living and a severe drop in the purchasing power of the dollar.

That threat apparently has no terrors for the Democrats, who are out to win in 1956 by what Rep. Daniel Reed, a veteran member of Congress, describes as a scheme for buying the electorate.

It remains to be seen whether the electorate can be bought by a $20 tax cut per voter, and whether socialism, as offered by the Democratic party leadership, is going to be accepted in preference to a sound dollar and a system of private enterprise.

Too Much Excess

By Frank Tripp

If you're a salt addict, don't believe a word of this. Just take it to your doctor, confess your sins and do as he says. All that I know about salt is what happened to me.

I've always been one of those "naturally plump" boys. Everything I ate turned to fat, is how I explained it. For years it didn't matter, since I had a sizable frame to carry it. Then the years and the old ticker began to tell me I was carrying too much excess.

So I became a calorie bore and added up the calories in everything from crepe suzettes to hitching posts. By lunch time I could not eat any more until tomorrow, according to the table in my pocket.

It didn't help too much. By sheer starvation I could take off five pounds in three weeks; then get discouraged and gain it all back in one meal. As long as I felt good I'd say "what the heck" and give up the struggle.

Until periodically came a dry sponge in the pit of my stomach and I'd diagnose my case as indigestion, ease up on a little on lobster thermidor, take some rhubarb and soda, and soon I'd be fit as a fiddle again.

THAT'S HOW I've played tag with the grim reaper for a lot of years; weighing in for each bout at weights ranging from 180 to 220, according to the date the old boy caught up with me.

Here lately he double - crossed me. He sneaked up when I was struggling back toward my par of 180. He dropped around one morning before breakfast and in 15 minutes Fanny whisked me off to the hospital, limp as a rag.

Before I had time to get the pretty nurse's telephone number three doctors got their heads together and launched me on a dehydration process that made a dried apple evaporator look like the Johnstown flood.

In four days they took 16 pounds off me.

Which, by the familiar "pint's a pound" rule, is two gallons of water. They pulled me down to 170, where I'm supposed to stay. And that's going to be a trick I don't relish.

All of the time they were fussing about my heart. I'm feeling fine and griping about the tasteless food they gave me.

Then I discovered there was no salt on the tray, no salt on anything. My old pal salt and I parted company; the way they'd have it, forever—and I'm supposed to go along.

No cook ever salted things enough for me. I'd always pile on more. Seems that all this time that I've been counting calories I should have been counting salt cellars

Up to now my doctors must have been stockholders in the International Salt Co., and didn't want to lose my business.

Also they may quarrel with this amateur explanation, but the way I translate their folklore the main trouble with my heart seems to have been its senile inability to pump against 16 pounds of useless water that my salt intake wouldn't let me eliminate.

ANYWAY I'm rid of the water, off the salt and rarin' to go. And I've good news for pals who gaze upon water other places than under bridges. I didn't get that two gallons of water the way you think, chum.

I needn't appreciably cut down the size or number of set ups, whether seasoned with lemon or with those more potent ingredients commonly used to make water more eloquent—unless I put salt in them, which is about the only place I didn't put it.

Of course, to be ethical and on the safe side, the doctors had to mention that "excesses of any kind are to be avoided."

That's always their "act of God" escape clause, like you find in any one-sided contract.

And mine sure is one-sided. I'm the party of the second part, the guy who's got to lay off the salt.

Democracy Reduced to Lowest Level

By Raymond Moley

While no one can deny the barefaced politics in the Democratic proposal to hand to every income-tax payer a credit of $20 each for himself and his dependents the Eisenhower administration and the Republican 83rd Congress brought this embarrassment upon themselves.

The demagogic assumption of Rayburn, Jere Cooper and other Democratic leaders last year was that the small deduction from taxes on dividends proposed by the administration and passed by Congress was "relief for the rich. It was, of course, no such thing.

The only people who could feel such a deduction as "relief" were people in the lower income brackets who were living on savings invested in securities. For the amount, $50 the first year and $100 a year thereafter, would hardly be noticed by people with large incomes.

THE EISENHOWER administration, however, was going down the middle of the road. It recognized that there is an unjust double tax on the income from investments already but instead of putting an end to the injustice by eliminating it entirely it decided to shave it just a little. In that way it provided a weapon for the opposition without providing any real relief. The reduction of the tax on dividends was therefore a feeble gesture which has now provided a serious political issue for the opposition.

It also introduces into politics the vicious practice of brazen bidding for votes by something exactly equivalent to handing out cash gifts. This is democracy reduced to its lowest elements.

Speaker Rayburn has quite accurately been given credit for being good humored, loyal to his party and patient as a presiding officer.

He has never been credited with much imagination. This deficiency is clearly illustrated in this $20-a-head proposal. It is as old as the practice of paying on the barrel head in some benighted communities in this great republic a flat sum in cash for each vote.

EXCEPT FOR THE cost of bookkeeping and administration this tax reduction is no better than a flat decree by Congress to give each taxpayer and his dependents a twenty-dollar bill outright.

The excuse for this proposal also lacks even the somewhat specious but indirect proposal of last year in which Sen. George suggested raising the exemptions to provide spending money to head off a depression.

Rayburn and his colleagues who are offering the $20 vote bait cannot conjure up a depression threat. All that they offer is the claim that since the "rich" were rewarded in an even-numbered year the "poor" have it coming in an odd-numbered year.

This sort of seesaw politics can well be the fatal malignancy that can destroy all pretense of free and orderly government. For no economic system can stand it.

The money to support the present expenditures of the federal government simply does not exist in the high incomes. It was stated on the unimpeachable authority of the Tax Foundation last year that if all individual incomes over $10,000 were taxed 100 per cent, the additional yield would be only 4¾ billion dollars.

THAT WOULD LEAVE about 58 billion to be paid by corporations and by those in the lower income levels.

And since a corporation tax is substantially an excise passed on to the consumer in higher prices the lower incomes would have to support that too. John D. Rockefeller Jr., pays only an infinitely small portion of the 52 per cent corporation tax. It is paid by the millions of Joe Doakeses when they buy shoes, diapers or gasoline.

Finally it should be remarked that this whole issue might have been avoided by the Eisenhower administration in another simple way. It might have spent less and thus balanced the budget this year and last.

How To Keep Experts in AEC

By DAVID BARNETT

The departure of top technical experts of the Atomic Energy Commission to greener pastures has resulted in a congressional research for means of holding the government's technical staff on their jobs.

The Joint Committee on Atomic Energy has asked the AEC to provide a list of employes who have left the agency in the last two years.

The most important of the recent resignations have been those of:

Kenneth D. Nichols, who has submitted his resignation effective May 1 from the $20,000 - a - year position as AEC general manager. It has been reported that his private industry job will pay $100,000 a year. Nichols recently told the Joint Committee he was resigning because of his obligation to earn more money for the education of his children.

Dr. Lawrence Hafstad, former director of the AEC's reactor division who joined the Chase National Bank in New York.

Although some technical personnel have left the agency because of policy differences with the administration of AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strass, monetary motives seem to be much more important.

Some Democratic members of of the committee think the agency's technical staff is being systematically raided by large industries for men who, because of their AEC work, have invalable information, some of it classified, on atomic energy.

One suggestion to meet the problem made by Sen. Gore, a member of the Joint Committee, would prohibit an AEC engineer from accepting a position in private industry in the atomic field for three years from the date of his resignation.

The main objection to such a scheme was voiced by AEC Commissioner Thomas E. Murray, who pointed out that it might discourage the recruitment of competent engineers for government work.

Other suggestions include:

Relax secrecy in the AEC so that outsiders may gain some of the technical competence that make agency employes so valuable to raiding industries.

Discontinue the AEC custom of continuing all former employes in consultative status. This practice means the technicians not only carry to industry all the information they obtained when they worked for the government, but also new techniqes developed after their departure.

Enact a conflict-of-interest statute similar to the one that now applies to lawyers. An attorney is barred by statute for two years after his departure from government sevice from posecuting a claim against the government arising out of a matter related to work he did as a government employe.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

It's in the News

Harlowe H. Curtice, president of General Motors, got $686,000 in salary, fees and bonuses last year. . . This is going to make Jackie Gleason pretty indignant. Well, keep your chin up, Harlow; work hard, keep everlastingly at it and some day you may be in the same economic brackets with the auto industry's TV comedians.

Gotham is so shocked by the disclosures of wiretappings covering a half dozen city exchanges that phone users are asking, "Shall we broadcast from the Yankee Stadium or discuss our private affairs on the phone where more people can hear us?". . . ("The wire is busy." . . . You're telling me!")

Jingle of the hour: Sen. Morse, he goes this way and that, changing his costume, his act and his hat. . . (They are calling him Sen. E. Went Thetteway.) . . . How about an Oregon voter's song "Going My Wayne?"

"Communists Paid Field $50,000 for False Imprisonment"—headline. . . Wanna bet?

When Irving Berlin got that medal from the President, as voted to him by Congress, for "God Bless America" and the great morale-building songs of two world wars, it marked a climb that began away back in 1909 when as a kid he came busting into Tin Pan Alley with "Marie From Sunny Italy," "Sadie Salome, Go Home" and, we think, "Yiddle on Your Fiddle." The GOP theme song, if Ike runs again, will be from Berlin's famous Dorando song with the lines "He run, he run, he run, he run like everything."

BEYOND DOUBT

Of all sad words
Our language packs,
Are these: "PLUS TAX."

We are disappointed and surprised at the lack of fight in American womanhood in their reaction to the weather bureau's announcement that 1953 hurricanes will continue to be given feminine names. Women arise! To the ramparts! Submit to this any longer and first thing you know an earthquake will be named Minnie and a devastating flood will be headlined "Mamie Hits Five States." It is a blow at the fair sex to create a situation where, when the roof is torn off the house, the picture window crashes in and the veranda goes sailing down Main Street, any weather bureau can say, "There goes Sally." Why name a hurricane anyhow? Who cares what their monickers are? Nobody wants to remember them or ask them to lunch some time. . . But if they must be named, name 'em after men. . . "Windy," "Buster," "Kayo."

Believe it or not, Bob Sherwood's "Road To Rome" has been titled "Jupiter's Darling" by Hollywood. . . Probably planning a sequence called "Son of Pluvius." In this new movie Esther Williams, the cinema's wettest year-around actress, clears up history. . . It seems that Hannibal crossed the Alps in search of a swimsuit, got the elephants through the passes as frogmen and would have taken Rome easily if he hadn't met a bathing beauty who interested him in skin-diving.

"Truman to Throw Out First Ball"—headline. . . Who dat?

Royal Little, who through the merger of American Woolen, Robbins Mills and Textron, will run 29 textile mills and 14 nontextile plants, is a Wakefield, Mass., boy who made good in the city.

It is announced that the National Sportsmen's Show this year will be stripped of the Coney Island "come-on" mood, and if so it's grand news. . . The spirit of the pitchman and ballyhoo spieler is never more out of place than at a show bearing the word "Sportsmen." . . . yet for years it crawled with fortune tellers, mechanical-house fakirs, astrologers, slot machines and pitch-penny devices from the county fair circuits.

A survey shows that less than half the professional men and women of the land bother to make a will. . . Pharmacists are most negligent, with journalists second and LAWYERS CLOSE UP! ! !.

If you think Hollywood is doing anything to help stop juvenile crime you should check on the crime films now playing on Broadway and in most every city in the land. . . There's one Broadway movie house the front of which is plastered with nothing but sadistic appeals for the patronage of lower-level thrill seekers. . . Even the actors played up to the kids as heroes perform like plug-uglies and mobsters in most films. . . As Master Gobel might ask, "Ain't them movie producers got no children of their own no more?"

Federal Hearing Continues

Ex-Prosecutor Disputes Testimony by Matusow

NEW YORK (AP) — A former government prosecutor disputes the testimony of Harvey Matusow, self-styled ex-Communist and FBI informer who says he falsified evidence in the 1952 trial of the 13 convicted Communists.

David L. Marks, former special assistant to the U.S. attorney, testified yesterday in a federal hearing on a retrial motion by the 13 Communists.

Marks, in a hearing which resumes today, described how he met Matusow in December 1951:

"An FBI agent reported to our office, that there was a former member of the Communist party at Wright Field, Ohio, who had information relative to the (Communists') case. As a result several of us met him in an automobile on the East River Drive."

Among those present, Marks said, was Roy M. Cohn, then an assistant U.S. attorney, who Matusow alleges helped him falsify evidence in the 195 trial of the 13 Reds. Cohn has denied the charge.

U.S. Atty. J. Edward Lumbard asked Marks: "Did you conclude that he (Matusow) might be used as a witness?"

"Yes," Marks replied, "we considered him as a probable witness."

Marks identified a memorandum dated Dec. 27, 1951, which he sent to a superior. In it he announced Matusow would be a witness and added that "he impressed me as being sincere as well as intelligent."

"During the prosecution of the case was there any information which might have led you to doubt Matusow's reliability as a witness?" Marks was asked.

"No, there was not," he replied.

Marks was the first government witness at the hearing before Federal Judge Edward J. Dimock.

Matusow, on the stand earlier in the day, testified he knew Mr. and Mrs. James Shean, of Montclair, N.J., and had spoken to them last June. The Sheans were not further identified.

"Didn't you tell them that the one thing you were happy about was that you had never lied in any of your testimony?" Lumbard asked.

"No, I don't recall saying that," said Matusow.

Harry Sacher, defense counsel for the 13 Reds, took over questioning of Matusow and asked him: "You did lie in respect to the way you testified at the (Elizabeth Gurley) Flynn trial, didn't you?"

"Yes," replied Matusow.

Miss Flynn was one of the defendants in the 1952 trial.

Sacher then told the court:

"There is one element present here. We have here a charge that an assistant U.S. attorney (Cohn) participated in the fabrication of testimony that was false . . .

"Even if we do not succeed in getting all 13 defendants a new trial, we would be satisfied if we could even get a new trial for one or two or three of them."

Division Manager

Kermit Froebe

A Marion resident, Kermit Froebe of 175 Pearl St., former Marion Industries department superintendent, has accepted a position with Stewart - Warner Corp. at Indianapolis, Ind., as superintendent of the firm's aircraft division.

He was superintendent three years of the plating department at Marion Industries until the partial shutdown of the plant last fall. At that time he took a position as consultant with Dominion Electric Co. at Mansfield.

Before coming to Marion he resided 18 years in Dayton where he owned and operated his own plating business. His son, William, who was graduated from Harding High School here last year, is serving now in the U.S. Army at Fort Knox, Ky. Mrs. Froebe will join her husband in Indianapolis as soon as the house they have purchased is vacant.

Mr. Froebe was a member of the Foremen's Club in Marion.

Car Stalls on Tracks In City's Only Mishap; One Crash in County

A station wagon was damaged when hit by a New York Central Railroad engine in the only traffic mishap reported today by city police. Marion state highway patrolmen investigated one non-injury accident during the last 24 hours.

The station wagon driven by Donald J. Williams, 32, of 131 Latourette St. was struck at the New York Central crossing on W. Center St. at 6:20 p.m. Wednesday after it stalled on the tracks.

According to police reports, Williams was westbond on Center St. and pulling a trailer and had started across the tracks when the trailer hitch apparently became loose. In attempting to cross the tracks before the approaching eastbound train reached the crossing, the Williams station wagon stalled and he attempted to stop the train which was unable to halt in time.

The crosisng gates were down and working according to police. Williams' vehicle was damaged in the front and rear and removed to a garage. There was no damage to the train, which was traveling only five miles an hour at the point of impact.

W. A. Chambers of Cleveland was engineer of the train while F. W. Welsh of Delaware was conductor and J. D. Burke, also of Cleveland, was brakeman.

One Accident in County

One accident was investigated by state highway patrolmen in Marion County Wednesday.

It occurred at the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing on Route 23 just north of the city limits at 10:32 a.m. Southbound vehicles driven by Austin Church, 49, of near Morral, and Robert Rohr, 44, of 264 S. Seffner Ave. were stopped at the crossing waiting for a train to go by, patrolmen said.

After the train had crossed, Rohr passed Church, striking the left front of the Church truck and also damaging the right side of his own vehicle. Rohr was arrested on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident and was to appear today in Municipal Court.

No one was injured.

Retail Managers Study Promotions

Don Bly, chairman, presided when members of the Retail Board of Managers of the Marion Chamber of Commerce held their regular monthly meeting at Hotel Harding Wednesday.

The board considered a proposed schedule of retail events prepared by the promotion committee and presented by Richard Gage.

Members also heard reports presented by Sam Babich, chairman of the distributive education committee, and Don Quaintance, chairman of the legislative committee.

An owl's hoot, a firefly's glow or a stone in a pengin's bill may be courtship phenomena.

Segregation Issue in Hillsboro Schools Unsettled, Judge Says

HILLSBORO, Ohio—Since a dispute arose last September on school zoning, the parents of about 50 Negro children have kept their offspring home from classes.

Judge Orland Roades of the Highland Juvenile Court has talked with some of the parents in hopes that a satisfactory arrangement could be worked out before next September. However, he admitted yesterday no solution has been reached.

The parents claim a zoning regulation was based on racial segregation. The school board said the zones were established according to residence. Five mothers petitioned the U. S. District Court in Cincinnati for an injunction against the zoning plan. The court overruled the petition but the parents have appealed.

In the meantime, the children have received no formal schooling. About 10 Negro pupils are attending Webster and Washington schools. Before last September these were all-white institutions. Another 35 pupils are attending classes at the all-Negro Lincoln building.

The school system has about 1,700 students. Classes in junior and senior high school are racially integrated.

Judge Roades said that if the absentees returned to class now they could not catch up with the work they missed since September. However, he said he hoped an agreement could be reached with the parents to send their children back to school in September.

Chamber's Membership Drive Slated April 19-20

April 19 and 20 have been selected as the days for the annual Chamber of Commerce membership drive. Campaign workers will begin their efforts on April 19 with a kick-off breakfast at 8 a.m. at Hotel Harding.

Carl Knirk and Smith Witter are co-chairmen for the campaign. Other committee members are John Zimmerman, Dale Schmidt, Donald Grace, Robert Kibbey, Lowell Douce, John Head, George Scantland and Carson Cook.

BAR GROUP HEARS ARTER

A talk on the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States was given at the February meeting of the Marion County Bar Association at Hotel Harding Wednesday noon. Giving the talk was J. C. A. Arter Jr. He was introduced by Charlton Myers.

Marionite Speaks At Bucyrus Rotary Anniversary Event

BUCYRUS — Living charter members and past presidents were among those present Wednesday when the Bucyrus Rotary Club joined with Rotary clubs throughout the nation in observing the 50th anniversary of the founding of the club.

Franklin J. Roelle, president, said invitations to attend the meeting were given to five charter members and all past presidents. Living charter members include W. A. Blicke and S. E. Auck, both of Bucyrus, A. G. Moser, R. O. Parrott and Dr. Frank P. Leonard.

Guest peaker at the meeting was Henry A. Mickley, Marion attorney and the present district chairman of the organization's golden anniversary committee.

Another highlight in the anniversary observance will be Thursday, March 30, when the local club will join with clubs from Galion, Cardington and Shelby in an inter-city dinner meeting at Greenlawn Restaurant, east of here.

The Bucyrus club was organized Aug. 1, 1920, with L. A. Dozer, a photographer, as president; F.L. Hopley, secretary; W. A. Blicke, treasurer, and M. B. Morrissey, sergeant-at-arms.

PLEADS GUILTY

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Raymond V. Griffith, who fled from a tuberculosis sanitarium at Canton, pleaded guilty yesterday to armed robbery and was bound over to the grand jury. Police said the Canton man robbed four taxi drivers and took their cabs. William W. Reed, detective chief, said Griffith had a very active case of the disease.

Prexies Prep for Finale; Irish Face Tourney Game

Harding Invades Sandusky; St. Mary Visits Westerville

St Mary and Harding are preparing to return to basketball action Friday night on foreign courts

The Irish receive their first taste of 1955 tournament action at Westerville against a highly-rated Columbus St Mary crew in exempted-parochial play while Harding closes out its regular season at Sandusky against the Blue Streaks

Both local cage squads are figured to face stern tests. Columbus St. Mary sports a 20-1 mark after whipping Granville 55-49 in parochial play in Otterbein College gymnasium last night while Sandusky is 8-7 for the year One of the wins posted by the up and down Blue Streaks was a 60-53 decision over a rugged Mansfield quintet

Coach Ray Robbins' Irish, idle for nearly two weeks after dumping Fredericktown in their season finale, carry a 14-6 mark into tomorrow night's action, their best regular campaign record in three seasons Five of those wins were in succession at the close of the season.

HARDING shows a 6-13 slate after defeating Fremont 79-65 in its last start Friday night Following the battle with Sandusky, the Prexies are scheduled for action in the Marion sectional tournament at the Coliseum Wednesday night. Galion is the Harding opponent

A win Friday night over Columbus St Mary would place St Mary in Central District play at Otterbein or Capital The Irish will be seeking their fifth straight parochial tourney win without defeat when they take the court against the Columbus school in the 9 30 p m final St. Mary has qualified for district play the past three years iwth wins in parochial play.

St Mary's opponents will be the most highly regarded squad faced by the Irish this season The Columbus squad was rated third in the latest Class B Ohio high school cage poll

Bill Stewart and Dave Barker are the big guns in the Columbus St Mary attack and receive support from Al Buccila. Stewart and Barker have been dropping in 20 points apiece in their team's wins throughout the year while Buccila has been the third threat Stewart hit for 20 while Barker netted only seven against Granville last night but Buccila came in with 10.

ST. MARY is expected to match them with Roger Micheli, Jerry Ballenger and Jon Smith, their three biggest guns Micheli pumped in 395 points during 20 regular season tilts while Ballenger had 210 and Smith netted 172 Johnny Messenger was the only other Irish cager to hit the 100-point mark He has 103 to his credit

Expected starters for Sandusky against Harding are Bucky Laird, 6-1, and Jack Harpst 5-10, at forwards, Gene Miller, 6-5 at center, and Tom Murray, 5-9, and Pat Gallagher, 5-8, at guards All are seniors and all but Miller were mainstays on the rugged Blue Streak grid squad which whipped Harding last fall

Columbus Irish Sink Granville In Tourney, To Meet St. Mary

St Marv will meet a rugged Columbus St Marv cage team Friday night in the Exempted Parochial basketball tournament at Westerville tournament. The Columbus Irish last night registered their 20th win against a single loss by downing Granville 55-49

The scrappy Granville squad led most of the way before bowing in the closing period. They dropped behind late in the opening stanza and St Mary took an 18-15 edge at the quarter mark but at the half the losers were holding a 31-28 lead The Rams were forced again in the third quarter but managed to carry a 42-38 cushion into the final quarter.

Dave Barker topped both teams in scoring with 20 markers for the winners while Al Buccilla chipped in with 10 Bill Stewart was limited to seven points. Tom Unger and Bob Grunder were high for Granville with 12 each

Newark St. Francis downed Columbus University 57-40 to qualify for a spot in the Friday night finals against London The third game will pit Mount Gilead's defending district champions against Holy Family The St Mary game will be the finale on the program and is scheduled for 9 30 Mount Gilead will appear in the middle game at 8 p m All three winners Friday night will qualify for a berth in the district tournament

By The Associated Press

Dayton s Flyers, tuning up for ball tournament, handily drubbed Toledo, 98-63 last night, topping a string of six games involving Ohio teams

The Flyers, ranked 11th nationally in this week's Associated Press poll, racked up a 41-27 halftime advantage, then coasted through the second half

Toledo's Tom Nichols led the scoring with 25 points, while center Bill Uhl headed Dayton with 19

Three other Ohio teams, trailing at halftime in last night s games, launched strong rallies to win

Denison's Big Red, behind 50-52 at halftime caught fire in the second half to trounce taller Akron, 101-81, for an Ohio Conference victory

Maynard Goare put in 15 points during the last ten minutes of the game leading Otterbein to a 79-75 Ohio Conference triumph over Ohio Wesleyan OW had led up to the last three minutes

Mount Union, behind 39-35 at the half, broke clear from a tie score with ten minutes to play to top Kent State 77-67

The University of Louisville avenged an earlier defeat by paralyzing Xavier's offense and sweeping ahead to win by a lopsided 92-52 The Ohioans had edged Louisville, 76-70, earlier this year

Walt Pavlick and Joe Gulando split 44 points between them pacing Case Tech in an 83-65 win over John Carroll.

Unanimous Decision

Gavilan's Comeback Drive Slowed as Constance Wins

MIAMI BEACH, Fla (AP) — Kid Gavilan s defeat by Hector Constance hasn t convinced the once-mighty Cuban Keed that he's too far over the hill to fight his way back to the welterweight throne

Constance, a smart, quick youngster from Trinidad, beat Gavilan to the punch often enough last night to score a unanimous 10-round decision over the former champion before a national television audience

Badly upset by the loss, Gavilan told reporters the decision was as "funny" as the one against him last Oct 20 in Philadelphia, when he lost the title to Johnny Saxton

This time, though, there weren't so many on the Kid's side Of the 13 working newsmen at the ringside seven voted Constance the winner Five thought Gavilan won and the other called it a draw

Yamil Chade a Cuban banker who became Gavilan s manager recently, said the decision was "very bad" and would be appealed to the Miami Beach Boxing Commission and the National Boxing Assn

Judge Gus Jacobson scored the fight 97-95 for Constance Judge Morris Feingold had it 98-97 and Referee Cy Gottfried 96-95. The Associated Press gave Constance a 97-96 edge

Gavilan 29, said the loss had not affected his hopes of regaining the championship

"Sure I keep on fighting," he said, 'I think I have another fight next month in New York This funny decision not going to stop the Keed I win every round tonight"

The 24-year-old Constance who became a pro fighter in 1951—about the time Gavilan was winning the welterweight crown from Johnny Bratton in New York—grinned when he heard of Gavilan's comment

The people on television all saw me win,' he said "Gavilan wasn t as tough as I expected him to be"

Gavilan weighed 154¼, Constance 149

Miss Virginia Ann Wick Is Married to J. D. Harris

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening Feb. 19 in Prospect Street Methodist Church, Miss Virginia Ann Wick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion K. Wick of the Prospect Pk., became the bride of Jimmie Dale Harris. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Harris Sr. of 1026 Henry St. The couple repeated their vows at 7:30 o'clock and the pastor, Rev. Fletcher E. Shoup, officiated.

Palms, two baskets of gladioli and lighted candles held in candelabra and decorated with greenery and white satin bows formed a background at the altar. The family pews were marked with white satin bows.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Mary Ellen Kerr, organist, and William Hollaway, vocalist.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of chantilly lace and nylon net. The lace bodice was styled with a scalloped neckine and accented by a yoke inset of sheer net. The long lace sleeves ended in points over the hands and the full tiered skirt of net fell from a V-shaped design at the waistline. Her tiara styled wedding crown was of pearls and net, from which cascaded a fingertip length veil. She carried an heirloom lace handkerchief belonging to Mrs. George Barks and her bouquet was of white shattered carnations.

Mrs. Jimmie D. Harris

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. John C. Freshour. Her dress of light green taffeta was ballerina length and styled with an off - the - shoulder neckline and full skirt. In her hair she wore a band of yellow carnations and her bouquet was of yellow shattered carnations.

Miss Barbara Harris and Miss Delores Harris, sisters of the bridegroom, lighted the candles. Their ballerina-length gowns were in a light green shade and styled like that of the matron of honor. They wore clusters of yellow carnations in their hair and wrist corsages of yellow carnations.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom was Donald E. Harris of Marion, and seating the guests were John Freshour and George Click.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wick chose a navy blue dress with which she combined yellow and white accessories. Mrs. Harris also was attired in a navy blue dress with matching accessories. Each wore a corsage of white carnations.

IMMEDIATELY following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. The bride's table, laid with a white linen cloth, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake encircled with yellow flowers and greenery. Lighted tapers completed the decorations.

Serving were Miss Barbara Wires, Miss Norma Call, Miss Ann Fellmeth and Mrs. R. E. Atkinson of Cincinnati, aunt of the bride. The reception was in charge of Mrs. Harlan Fairchild, assisted by Mrs. Harry Watts. Miss Anna Fairchild presided at the guest book.

When the couple left on a wedding trip through the southern part of Ohio, Mrs. Harris was wearing a light green knit dress with brown accessories and a corsage from her bridal bouquet. They will reside at 148½ S. Vine St.

Mrs. Harris was graduated from Pleasant High School with the class of 1953 and is employed in the Household Fiance Corp. office. Mr. Harris is employed in the parts department of the McDaniel Motor Co.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Atkinson and son, Bobby, of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart E. Gilmore and son, Tommy, of Celina, Mrs. Ralph Swallow and Miss Jane Swallow of Lima, Mrs. Don McCombs and family of Beaverdam, O., Miss Nancy Debolt of Galion, Miss Anna Fairchild of Columbus, and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Wainfor and daughters, Nancy and Connie, of Prospect.

At the rehearsal party at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Wick presented a compact to her matron of honor, pearl choker necklaces to the candlelighters and earrings to the reception assistants. Mr. Harris gave his best man and ushers neckties and belts.

Church Activities

A song service led by Rev. Leland Wiley opened the meeting of the LaRue Brotherhood when a meeting was held Monday evening in the annex of the Methodist Church. The worship service was led by Riley Hoagland. A letter of thanks from the Worthington Children's Home was read, thanking the group for Christmas gifts for the children.

Plans were made for the annual community father and son banquet sponsored by the group and committees were appointed. The banquet is scheduled for March 21 in the annex of the church.

Miss Ruth Zachman was re-elected president of the Calvary EUB Christian Service Guild Tuesday night at the Parish House. New officers elected include Miss Doris Brading, vice president; Mrs. Alva Caldwell, secretary; Mrs. Marguerite Scharer, treasurer; and department secretaries. Mrs. Esther Chappell, spiritual life; Miss Marjorie Epley, Christian social relations; Mrs. LaVon Collins, missionary education, and Mrs. Laura Gaver, missionary education for children.

To open the meeting a reading, "The Quiet Control Room," was given and prayer was led by Miss Brading. Following the election devotions included group singing, scripture by Mrs. Collins and prayer by Mrs. Chappell. For a program Mrs. Mavis Mite gave a book review on India and a poem was presented by Mrs. Gaver. Refreshments were in keeping with the patriotic holiday, with Mrs. Louise Coldwell and Mrs. Gaver serving.

A potluck supper was a social highlight of a meeting of the Emma Berger Bible Class of Calvary EUB Sunday School Thursday evening in the parish house. Members of the Men's Bible class and friends were guests.

Rev. Clyde Wendell, pastor, gave the devotions and the group sang "In the Garden" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," with Robert Faulkner as accompanist.

Miss Vera Stull, teacher of the hostess class, gave a talk and a talk and demonstration on artificial respiration was given by Walter Baker. Paul Lill won honors in a contest for the men and in a contest for the women the winner was Mrs. Charles Feaver.

A contribution was made to the Child Evangelism and Rescue Mission and the meeting closed with a prayer by Mrs. Ellis Epley, president of the Emma Berger Class.

Serving as a committee in charge of the evening were Mrs. Epley, Mrs. Thomas Grice, Mrs. Elmer Copper, Mrs. Pearl Irey, Mrs. Pearl Quaintance and Mrs. Cora Laughman.

PTA Activities

A Founders Day program will be presented by the North Main Street PTA tonight at 7:30 at the school. The speaker will be Superintendent Robert Brown, and devotions will be by Rev. Floyd E. Kline of Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church.

Past presidents of the PTA and past principals of the school will be given roecgnition. There will be special music. During business new officers will be elected, and a social hour will be held following the program.

ALBERS ALWAYS HAS THE LOW PRICES!

ALBERS policy has always been to price all foods as low as possible based on our low costs. When markets decline, ALBERS immediately reduce the retail price in all stores . . . to prove this point, ALBERS have reduced 236 grocery prices, on which our cost or the market has declined since January 1st.

When markets advance, ALBERS do not advance the retail price until additional merchandise is purchased at a higher cost . . . in many cases, this low price protection to our customers may continue for weeks.

We sincerely hope you will make comparisons on the prices of ALL foods (not just a few advertised specials) and we know you will be convinced that Albers still has the low prices.

-:- Lodge Activities -:-

"Friendship Night" was observed by LaRue's Zenith Temple No. 144, Order of Pythian Sisters, Monday evening when 14 members of Esther Temple of Caledonia were their guests.

A regular business meeting preceded the program which opened with a welcome by Mrs. Joan Miller. Mrs. Mae Rice of Caledonia responded. A reading "George Washington," was by Mrs. Ethel Little, followed by a pantomime by Mrs. Roberta Weist. Piano selections by Mrs. Mary Walters were followed by a group of contests conducted by Mrs. Opal Cook.

Refreshments were served in the dining room following the meeting.

Various announcements were made when members of the Marion Knights of Columbus lodge met in the K. of C. hall Tuesday night.

Grand Knight George Baron announced that an area youth activity committee meeting will be held in Mansfield Tuesday night, March 8. He and Norman Schnelker, Marion Council youth activity chairman, will attend.

Francis Norris, Catholic activity committee chairman, reported that a K. of C. family communion would be held during the 7:30 a.m. mass at St. Mary Catholic Church March 13. All K. of C. members, wives and children are invited to participate.

Baron also announced an officers meeting for Tuesday night, March 1, in the club rooms. Lecturer Pat Finan was in charge of the program for the evening and showed a film entitled "Narcotics in Ohio." An attendance award was won by Frank Klaus.

A contribution was voted to the God Star Mothers fund when the Auxiliary to Dyer J. Bird Chapter, Rainbow Veterans of Ohio, met Friday night with Mrs. Mary Fisher on E. Walnut St. Mrs. Dorothy Beckel presided for the meeting which was opened with prayer by Mrs. Sam Van Voorhiss, chaplain. Plans were made to send a gift to Sam Van Voorhiss who is in Crile Hospital, Cleveland.

During the social hour, the mystery box went to Mrs. Van Voorhiss, and contest awards were won by Mr. Carl Van Voorhiss, Mrs. Dorothy Beckel and Mrs. Ray Martin. The next meeting, March 8, will be with Mrs. Carl Van Voorhiss at Delaware.

Semi-annual inspection of Marion Bethel No. 2, Job's Daughters, was conducted at a meeting of the Bethel Tuesday night at the Masonic Temple. A grade of "excellent" was given the Bethel by Mrs. Harriet Case of Cleveland, grand guardian, who was the inspecting officer. Beverly Mishler, honored queen, presided.

About 100 members and guests were in attendance.

Visiting honored queens present were Kay Evans of Delaware and Sue Severns of Columbus, and past honored queens introduced were Leila Gail Pierce and Joan Saull Deadon, both of Marion.

Miss Ann Harter of Delaware, a past grand guardian, was in attendance. Grand officers present included Mrs. Helen Johnson of Cincinnati, vice grand guardian; Mrs. Florence Kaiser of Columbus, grand guide; Mrs. Evelyn Williams of Mamon, grand marshal; Mrs. Ursula Lehman of Columbus, grand secretary. Ralph Harruff of Marion, a past associate guardian, also was introduced.

Also present were these guardians and associate guardians, Mrs. Margaret Castle of Columbus, Mrs. Nina Ufferman of Delaware, Mrs. Martha Boorman of Columbus, Mrs. Marian Bird of Cincinnati, Mrs. Williams of Marion, Forest Worley of Columbus, William Castle of Columbus, William Scofied of Columbus and William Markham of Marion.

All master Masons and Mrs. Mary Ames, worthy high priestess of Marion White Shrine No. 15, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mishler, parents of the honord queen, were introduced.

Visiting Bethel members were from Bethel No. 22 at Delaware and Bethels 3, and 28 in Columbus.

Members of the guardian council of Marion Bethel are Mrs. Williams, guardian, William Markham, associate guardian, Mrs. Violet Fetter, treasurer, Mrs. Catherine Markham, secretary, and Mrs. Marlene Furniss, assistant guardian musician.

In a talk by Mrs. Case, she announced plans for the grand session to be held June 25-26 in Cincinnati.

A dinner for officers and distinguished guests was held in the Temple dining room preceding the meeting. Girls of the Bethel choir assisted in serving. The dinner was prepared by Mrs. Geraldine McKeehan and a committee of mothers of Bethel members, including Mrs. Mary Moderwell, Mrs. Margaret Haughn, Mrs. B.H. Taylor and Mrs. Robert Warner. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

A program in observance of the birthday anniversary of George Washington was given at a meeting of Sosnowski Rebekah Lodge Tuesday night in the Odd Fellows hall.

Mrs. Helen Johnson was in charge of the program which included readings on the life of Washington, by Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Edna Griffith, an article "Freedom's Foundation," by Mrs. Margaret Russell, two piano numbers by Mrs. Helen Griffith and the singing of "America" and "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," by the group.

For refreshments, served during a social hour, the table was decorated in red, white and blue. A guessing box award was won by Mrs. Velma Guinn and a special prize was won by Mr. Murl Tonguette. Mr. Edna Gunder reported the death of Mrs. Anna I. Henderson, state secretary for 27 years, which occurred last week at Columbus. Announcement was made of a meeting of the Past Noble Grands Club to be held March 2 with Mrs. Lottie Snyder of Henry St.

Drill practice was held in preparation for work March 22.

Mrs. Mary Davis was a guest and Mrs. Mittie Misamore welcomed back as a member when Mrs. Ruby Bogart and Mrs. Gladys Moes entertained the T and O. Club of Mary A. Canfield Council No. 210, Daughters of America, Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Bogart, 267 W. Columbia St.

Mrs. Misamore was presented a special award. A secret sister valentine gift exchange was held. A guessing box award was won by Mrs. Kathleen Samples and honors in cards were won by Mrs. Gladys Townsend, Mrs. Daisy Latham, Mrs. Samples and Mrs Violeta Shenefield. Mrs. Gera Griffiths was consoled. Mr. Townsend received the floating prize and Mrs. Shenefield the award for the most lone hands.

A St. Patrick's Day party was planned to be held at the home of Mrs. Hazel Thomasson, 238 Olney Ave. with Mrs. Essie Thompson, Mrs. Virtie Townsend and Mrs. Mildred Thome as associate hostesse.

A dinner honoring 11 members whose birthday anniversaries occur in the first quarter of the year was held by Rebekah Friendship Circle Tuesday in the Odd Fellows hall. Covers were placed for 20 at a table holding three birthday cakes and decorated in a patriotic theme. Places were marked with tiny hatchets. The celebrants were presented nosegays by Mrs. Jacob Bolinger. Prayer was by Mrs. Clara Smallwood.

Mrs. Zed Gunder presided for a short business session and for roll call the members gave their birthday anniversaries. A report was made of the death of Mrs. Ida Henderson of Columbus who had served as secretary of the state organization for 27 years. Mrs. Edna Griffith read the story of George Washington and Mrs. Jacob Bolinger gave "White Clouds Over Washington." Mrs. Geneva Miller won the award for the afternoon.

THE FAIREST OF THE FAKIRS. Falling in with the international obsession of picking "queens," fakirs who gathered in Paris picked Yvette Boutard, 19, as theirs. She's shown on her job, a bed of nails.

Pleasant Scouts Attend Dinner, Receive Awards

A blue and gold banquet was attended by members of the Pleasant Cub Scouts and their parents Tuesday night in the school. Sixty-five were in attendance.

Francis Brown, leader of Pack No. 26, presented the awards to the Cub Scouts and special music and skits were given by members of Dens 1 and 4.

Table decorations and dinner arrangements were made by the den mothers, Mrs. Hugh McFadden, Mrs. Don Chapman, Mrs. David Horg. Mrs. Windsor and Mrs. Donald Heloy

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stephenson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Mochel and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weiss and daughter, and Mrs. Hunter and son.

CHURCH TO SHOW FILM

A sound and color motion picture, "The China Challenge," will be presened at the Salem Church of God on the Gracely Pk. west of Marion tomorrow night. The service will be under auspices of the church's Missionary Society. This showing at 8 o'clock by V. C. Griffith of Marion will be open to the public, it was announced.

Soil Conservation District in Bucyrus Will Include Huron

BUCYRUS—The Crawford County Divide Soil Conservation District, which has headquarters in Bucyrus, has voted to support the Celeryville Conservancy District of Huron County as one of its local sponsoring groups, Robert Mills, Soil Conservation District technicians, announced here today.

The conservancy district is seeking to qualify for federal aid under the new watershed protection and flood control act, which involves the voluntary use of conservation farming methods on farms within the watershed.

About 50 per cent or 5,000 acres of the watershed lies within Crawford County, northeast of Tiro and the remainder is in Richland County.

The program was discussed at a meeting of the SCD board with conservancy directors, Frank Weirs and Ben Van Zoust of Columbus, and Arthur Sanford, soil conservation service area conservationist.

Educational meetings wil be held in the Auburn Center area to discuss the conservation program with farmers and other landowners, Mills said.

PROJECT UP FOR SALE

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The 69-acre 300-family Don Mellett federal housing project can be bought by the residents if they form a corporation and agree to pay $1,253,500. That was the announcement made yesterday by Norman Nicholson, a disposition officer from Chicago. He said if 200 residents take shares in the corporation within 90 days they can get the project for down payments of $587 per family and monthly installments of about $50.50.

Toledo Chinchilla Show Is Headed by Bucyrian

BUCYRUS — Harold F. L. Wurtemberger of Bucyrus, president of the Ohio Branch, National Chinchilla Breeders of America, Inc., is serving as general chairman of the Central States Regional Chinchilla Show to be held in Toledo Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The regional chinchilla show will be held in the Secor Hotel. Ohioans will serve as hosts to an anticipated 300 animal entries and approximately 200 competing ranchers from California to Virginia. The Central States Region, of which Ohio is a part, is composed of eight midwestern states and 11 branches.

The Bucyrus chinchilla raiser is a lifelong resident of the city and has been employed for many years by the New York Central Railroad as yardmaster. He has owned chinchillas since 1938. He is also president of the North Central Area Chinchilla Ranchers' Club, a group composed of chinchilla owners in the central Ohio area.

Wurtemberger announced that Frank A. Garvey of Lynxville, Wis., will serve as head judge and that Harold F. Hopper of Penfield, N. Y., president of the National Chinchilla Breeders of America, will speak at the show's Saturday night banquet. In addition to the show, Ohio women will see their first chinchilla fashion show on Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Secor Hotel. This is believed to be the first time that chinchilla garments have been presented in a formal showing in Ohio.

H. F. L. WURTEMBERGER
Chairman of Event

The show, the first of its kind in the state, will be thrown open to the public on Sunday from 1:30 to 3 p.m. Visitors will be able to observe final judging and awards and the chinchilla fashion show. The style show will also be televised from WSPD, Toledo, from 1 to 3 p.m. Monday during the program known as Hospitality Hour.

Crestline Accepts Bids for Auxiliary Sewer Construction

CRESTLINE — Bids are being sought in Crestline for construction of an auxiliary storm sewer on W. Main St., whih was approved by village Council in recent legislation, it was announced at the short session of Council Monday night.

The sewer project, which will cost approximately $9,000, will correct overload conditions in the present sewer lines which caused water to back up into the basements of many Crestline homes.

The sewer will start on the north side of W. Main St. and cross to the south side near Westgate Drive. It will empty into the west branch of the Sandusky River, west of Crestline.

Lesley Sherer told Council that sidewalks on the south side of the village on Bauer Ave. are in need of improvement. Reid Pittinger suggested that the sidewalks needing repairs throughout the village be ordered taken care of by property owners.

Mayor Nelson Lee stated that he will take up the matter with the sidewalk committee.

Clerk Miss Marie Schill, gave the financial report and the payroll totaling $1,637 was approved.

Traffic Violator Held Here on Forgery Count

An Elmira, N. Y., man was being held by city police today for investigation of check forgery after being picked up on a routine traffic violation here Wednesday.

Malcolm George Stepp, 24, is wanted by Wayne County, N. Y., authorities on a warrant charging him with forgery, according to Police Chief Tom Coon.

He has admitted stealing checks from a number of Express agencies and cashing them in several towns. When arrested he had several American Express checks, apparently filled in with his own handwriting, in his possession and a check with Elmira officials showed the checks were stolen from an American Express agency there.

Stepp was arrested Wednesday at 2:38 a.m. on W. Center St. by city patrolmen on a charge of having no plates on his car.

HEADS FARM BUREAU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Farm Bureau Cooperative Assn. yesterday reelected W. Norton Woods of Maumee, president. The group also named as vice president James M. Lewis, Hamilton, and as association directors Oscar Keller, Elyria; Mrs. Jay Lawrence, Coshocton, and Wendell Weller, Urbana.

Matusow's Offer Of Book Royalties Refused by Antioch

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP)—Antioch College students have established what they call a "clean money" fund to replace book royalties offered the college Tuesday by Harvey," the paper announced $25 President Samuel B. Gould the same day.

Matusow is the self-described former Communist who has testified before congressional investigating committees and courts trying Communist leaders. Matusow now says he lied in many cases.

Matusow said he would turn over royalty proceeds from his forthcoming book, "False Witness," for college scholarships at Antioch. In the manuscript of the book Matusow said his testimony that many Antioch students follow the Communist line, given in 1952 before a congressional subcommittee, was false.

Establishment of the fund here was announced in The Record, student newspaper. Under a headline which read "You can have it, Harvye," the paper announced $25 already had been pledged to the fund.

ILLNESS CLOSES SCHOOL

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—St. Joseph Parochial High School pupils are on vacation for the rest of the week. Half of the 12 teachers are sick. Father Edward Lavey, principal, said only 39 of the 331 pupils were absent but that he could find no replacements for the teachers.

Traffic Cases

Five drivers were fined a total of $75 and costs on various traffic violations and another forfeited a $35 bond in Marion Municipal Court Wednesday.

Forfeiting the bond when he failed to appear in court was Jesse Parker, 28, of Columbus, who was charged with having no operator's license.

Fined $15 and costs each on various traffic violations were J. R. DeLuca, 42, of Bellevue, yellow line; R. E. Porter, 39, of 348 Olney Ave., speeding; Donald Devore, 20, of 1036 Cheney Ave., no operator's license; Bertha Clark, 205 Leader St., crossing yellow line; and Charles Copper, 36, of Nevada, speeding.

Fines of $15 and costs were suspended for Wilbur Osborn, 26, of 1130 Bennett St., illegal parking on highway, and M. A. Apthorp, 51, of 310 Silver St., failure to yield the right of way.

District Traffic Cases

Two persons were arrested Wednesday outside of Marion County by state highway patrolmen from the Marion post.

John J. Felice, 46, of Seven Hill Villaeg, O., was fined $15 and costs on a charge of excessive speed when he appeared before Mayor Emery Murphy of Mount Gilead.

Adeline P. Clary of Newark, is to appear March 4 before Mayor Murphy in a charge of left of center.

Galion Man's Brother Dies at Columbus Home

GALION — Funeral services were held in Columbus Saturday afternoon for T. Roy King, 76, brother of C. Floyd King of Galion. Burial was made in Sunset Cemetery, Columbus.

Mr. King died of a heart attack last Wednesday in his home in Columbus. He was a carpenter.

Attending the services from Galion were Mrs. Jack Shuck, a niece, and Franklin King, a nephew, formerly of Galion, now of Wooster. Mr. and Mrs. C. Floyd King, en route to Galion from Florida, did not learn of Mr. King's death until they stopped in Columbus Saturday afternoon shortly after graveside services.

A native of Meigs County, Mr. King is survived by his widow, Anise; and three sons, Ray and Bob of Columbus, and Firmant of near Cincinnati; a daughter, Mrs. Fay Elliott of Columbus; and two brothers, C. Floyd of Galion and Pearl King of Mechanicsburg.

KILLED IN CRASH

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The state highway patrol said Charles Swank, 44, of Zoar was killed last night when the car he was driving swerved out of control, striking another car. The accident occurred on Ohio 8, about a mile north of nearby East Sparta.

Man Dreams of Raise

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP) — A dream come true—after a fashion—for Lucian J. Ciresi, confidential clerk in the district attorney's office who had complained that he was the "forgotten man" as far as pay raises are concerned.

One night he dreamed that he had received a raise at last. The next morning he learned that his semi - monthly check would be boosted by $6.71.

What his dream failed to point out was that Ciresi had just passed 55 and his contributions to the New York State Retirement System were reduced.

POOR RELIEF DISTRIBUTED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes yesterday turned over $14,933,028 in poor relief funds to the 88 Ohio counties. The money comes from $28,808,851 collected in 1954 from excise taxes on public utilities, the balance of which goes into the state's general revenue fund.

GAS FILLS BUILDING

The Marion Fire Department made one investigation Wednesday evening when firemen were called to the Nickles Bakery, 787 N. Main St., at 7:30 p.m. They found a broken gas line had filled the building with fumes, so they shut off the valves. The call was answered by firemen from the Central station.

San Francisco Church Begins Second Century

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — A stately church rose in the chaparra' on a hillside overlooking San Francisco's waterfront when the city was at its wildest and wickedest, a boomtown of 50,000 goldseekers, profiteers and adventureers.

As parishioners watched it go up on the side of Nob Hill, they grumbled that it was too far out of town to suit them.

Into the building went Mendocino redwood that cost $325 a thousand feet, brick that came around the Horn from New England, Gothic stained glass windows from the art centers of Europe and granite quarried and cut in' China.

That was 100 years ago when Old St. Mary's Church was brand new.

At the recent centennial observance of California's first cathedral and famed landmark, San Francisco paid tribute to the church that helped the city through its growing pains and continues to live with it in maturity.

In the early days, Old St. Mary's was the largest building in San Francisco. Citizens from all parts of the city told the time of day by the four-faced clock in the square tower.

Despite the clamor of those who had more reverence for hteir sleep than for church bells, St. Mary's bells rang out as they do today, and a bold sign on the tower warned evil-doers with a verse from the Book of Ecclesiasticus: "Son, observe the time and fly from evil."

Chinese who began to establish a community around the church called it "The Big Bell House."

Within two decades after its dedication, Old St. Mary's was no longer alone in the chaparral but right in the midst of the rapidly growing city. In December, 1855, Archbishop Patrick Riordan complained that the venerable church "can scarecely be approached from any direction without a shudder at the sinfulness and filth of its surroundings.'"

Six years later he dedicated a new and grander St. Mary's Cathedral, on Van Ness avenue at O'Farrell St., still the seat of the archdiocese.

The Paulist Fathers, who had been doing mssionary work in the Far West since the 1870's, took charge of Old St. Mary's and its parish in 1894. With zeal they went to work on the disease-infested tenements of Chinatown and the red-light district across California St. on the present site of St. Mary's Square.

Near the church, the fathers established the first Roman Catholic Chinese mission in the United States.

An act of God in the form of San Francisco's 1906 earthuake and fire aided the Paulists in their reform drive. The stout brick walls of Old St. Mary's stood intact amid the devastated city. The church's burned interior was rapidly restored, and Old St. Mary's was the first Catholic Church in San Francisco to open for services after the disaster.

Some 1,500 persons now make up the parishioners of "The St. Patrick's of the West." This does not include the 1,200 Chinese who worship at the nearby mission and the 4,000 other persons who attend mass each Sunday. Each day 1,000 worshipers trudge up California St. from the financial and shopping centers to attend noon mass at the historic "church on the hill."

Dinner Party Marks 50th Anniversary of Rotary

COSTUMES WORN around the turn of the century were worn by members and guests of the Marion Rotary Club as the group celebrated the 50th anniversary of Rotary's founding with a dinner Wednesday evening at Hotel Harding.

UPPER LEFT: Mr. and Mrs. Merle Hamilton came dressed in clothing of the 1900 era. Hamilton was chairman of the committee which planned the golden anniversary dinner.

UPPER RIGHT: Dr. and Mrs. James S. Greetham also wore costumes popular around 1900. Dr. Greetham is the immediate past president of the local club.

LOWER LEFT: Mr. and Mrs. Odell Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sloan were among those who chose to wear items reminiscent of 50 years ago. Thompson is president of the local club and Sloan, now residing in Newport, Ky., formerly served as secretary and vice president here.

LOWER RIGHT: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mickley also wore 1900-era costumes. Mickley, president of the local group in 1946, served as district governor in 1949-50.

eration ordered street demonstrations against rearmament.

Despite the aggressive campaign by Communists, Socialists and trade unionists, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer reportedly was confident of final victory.

Three Pacts Endorsed

The four parties in Adenauer's ruling coalition have unanimously endorsed three of the Paris Treaties — the pacts to restore sovereignty to West Germany, create a West European Defense Union, and admit West Germany into the North Atlantic Treaty organization.

But two of the factions, the Free Democrats and the Refugee Party, oppose the agreement to "Europeanize" the Saar. The Free Democrats last night defied a threat by Adenauer to oust them from his coalition if they did not support the Saar accord.

Adenauer's Christian Democrats alone have 244 seats in the 487-seat house. Of the other coalition members, the Free Democrats have 48, the Refugee party 27 and the German party 15. The opposition Socialists hold 151.

Fights for Support

Adenauer's toughest job has been to mobilize enough support for this pact and to beat down movements among his own supporters to postpone the final decision until France has completed ratification. They still face upper house action in Paris.

Many of the 79-year-old Chancellor's supporters have indicated they would vote reluctantly for the rearmament package. They feel German reunification, not rearmament, is the dominant political issue among West Germans.

The Socialists want to block rearmament until another attempt has been made to get the Russians to agree to reuniting divided Germany.

Worldwide Event

175 Members and Guests Attend Local Observance

One hundred and seventy-five members and guests of the Marion Rotary Club joined thousands of other clubs throughout the world in celebrating the 50th anniversary of the club's founding with a dinner at Hotel Harding Wednesday evening.

Some of the members and guests were dressed in costumes typical of the 1900 era, and many others wore touches of something reminiscent of 50 years ago.

PRESIDING at the dinner and introducing the guests was Odell Thompson, president of the local club. First to be introduced were Dr. and Mrs. Carl W. Sawyer and Mr. and Mrs. John Stafford. Dr. Sawyer, a charter member, served as the fourth president of the local group. Stafford, also a charter member, was president in 1939.

Other guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mickley, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Young of Richwood, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Wiant of near Cable, Mr. and Mrs. George Planck of Loudonville and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sloan of Newport, Ky.

Mickley, who served as president in 1946, was district governor in 1949-50. Young and Wiant are honorary members. Young was president in 1938 and Wiant in 1945. Planck served as president in 1940. Sloan, secretary for a number of years, was vice president when he moved from the city.

Following the introduction of the guests of honor, Thompson turned the meeting over to Merle Hamilton, program chairman for the golden anniversary dinner.

A "truth or consequences" skit presented by Jay Maish Jr. and Arthur Martin was followed by several selections by the Marion Serenaders under the direction of L. G. Jones.

Ralph Howard was narrator for a dramatic sketch which portrayed the past 50 years of Rotary International and gave a glimpse into the hopes for the future of the club.

THE STAGE was decorated in blue, and a large revolving Rotary wheel in gold completed the background for this presentation. The wheel was made by Vernon Street, a member of the local club.

Displayed on the stage were flags of the countries in which Rotary Clubs can be found. The presentation was accompanied by background music from the Serenaders.

Thompson announced that Ralph Howard, now vice president, had been elected president for the 1955-56 club year, with Lewis Ashworth as vice president. Harold Hall was re-elected as secretary-treasurer. Howard and Ashworth will take office in July.

Elected new directors were Arthur Haas, Perry Bachelder and Vernon Street. Hold-over directors, in addition to Howard and Ashworth, will be George Alber, Rex G. Kilbourn, William Hamor and Clare Williams.

Guests at Wednesday's dinner included Mrs. Alfred Donithen, widow of the 1946 president; Mrs. J. Malcolm Strelitz, widow of a charter member; Walter Rudin, president of the Mount Vernon Rotary Club, and Mrs. Rudin; Miss Mary Jo Stafford, Mr. and Mrs. William Pohler, Mrs. Maude Haybeck, Miss Phylis Hughes, Miss Janet Frew and Miss Phoebe Frew.

Student reporters from St. Mary High School were Miss Gwen Nicolos and Gary Howman.

bonds. Two of the proposals did not contain provisions for a survey, according to Fralich.

ALL THE proposals included a bond price, interest rate, expiration date, a deadline for acceptance of the proposal and delivery of the bonds to the company, and a clause binding the city to use on-street parking revenues (parking meters) to retire the bonds if the garage di dnot pay for itself.

Fralich emphasized this morning Council was no place near making a definite decision at the present time. He said the matter would require much serious consideration and study before it was ready for action, one way or the other.

Johnston, expressing opposition to Harlan's confirmation, said, "I fear him because I have a tendency to believe that he would put the United Nations above the United States Constitution."

Kefauver said that he knows of no substantial evidence against Harlan and intends to vote for his confirmation.

Two other presidential nominations advanced a step yesterday. The Commerce Committee recommended confirmation of former Rep. Ross Rizley to be a member of the Civil Aeronautics Board and of Louis S. Rothschild to be undersecretary of commerce for transportation.

Chairman Magnuson D-Wash said he does not know when the committee will vote on selection of George C. McConnaughey to be a member of the Federal Communications Commission. Magnuson said no action would be taken for at least a week.

formed by local law enforcement officials.

"We are initiating the proceedings to padlock the Chez Paree to exemplify to local law enforcement officials what can and should be done where bingo exists on the scale in which it is being operated at the Chez Paree in Scioto County."

The governor said he had reports that 500 to 1,000 people took part in the Scioto County game nightly.

The game would be closed under a law passed by the General Assembly four years ago for padlocking gambling houses as "common nuisances."

Paul Gregory, a farmer who lives near the scene, said one of the survivors told him the fire first appeared in the tail and that pressure made it difficult to open the doors to jump.

"They said they had parachuted from the plane at an altitude of less than 75 feet," Gregory said. "One of them said he landed on his head and the other said he landed on his feet."

Crew Identified

The base identified the missing men as Capt. Ralph D. Colton, 29, copilot, Hartville, Mo., and T. Sgt. John Vandekraats, 28, student engineer, Pella, Iowa. A search for them was continuing.

The Air Force listed the nine dead men as: T. Sgt. Russell Fletcher, 37, student engineer, Columbus, Ohio; A. 2 C. Charles J. Sitra, 22, assistant boom operator, Livermore, Calif.; S. Sgt. Robert E. Rosencrance, 36 boom operator, Yreka, Calif.; Capt. Leslie H. Brown, 40, aircraft commander, Guerneville, Calif.; S. Sgt. J. C. Holder, 22, radio operator, San Antonio, Tex.; S. Sgt. Anton R. Bohaty, 30, engineer, Los Angeles; Lt. Harry E. King, navigator, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.; Capt. Ralph D Colton, 29, co-pilot, Hartville, Mo.; T. Sgt. John Vanderkraats, 28, student engineer, Pella, Ia.

New Fertilizer Promises Hike In Crop Yields

MEMPHIS (UP) — A food-growing aid that produces almost magical effects promises to provide better and cheaper products for your table.

But there is really nothing mysterious about anhydrous ammonia. The men who manufacture it would be the first to tell you that it is simply a fertilizer—perhaps the best yet developed, but a fertilizer nonetheless.

Farmers claim that its use not only improves the quality of their crops but doubles or triples yields, which eventually should mean lower food prices.

The reason anhydrous ammonia is so important to crops is that 82 per cent of its weight is nitrogen, and nitrogen is one of three essentials for plant growth. The other two are phosphates and potash.

There are other forms of nitrogen fertilizer, but there is nearly twice as much usable nitrogen per pound in anhydrous ammonia than in any other product.

Perhaps the best indication of the impact anhydrous ammonia has had on agriculture is the way this young industry has grown.

Prior to 1946, anhydrous ammonia was more or less a laboratory plaything. It had been used in California's citrus groves, where researchers poured it into the water in irrigation canals.

But the direct application of anhydrous ammonia didn't start until 1946, when Dr. W. B. Andrews of Memphis State College perfected a device that made direct application possible.

A short time later, the use of anhydrous ammonia was recommended to farmers in the Mississippi Delta, one of the top farming areas in the state of Mississippi. After that, this new method of fertilizing crops spread from coast to coast and is now used in at least 40 states. Puerto Rico and Hawaii.

There are now 24 anhydrous ammonia plants scattered throughout the nation, and 17 others are under construction or are planned.

Virtually all of this has taken place in the nine-year period since Andrews perfected the device that places the liquid in the ground.

Despite the industry's mushroom growth and steady increase in productive capacity, there still isn't enough of the fertilizer to meet the demands.

In Mississippi, the consumption of anhydrous ammonia has held at a more or less steady level since 1950. This levelling-off, was due partially to the short supply and the competition of new customers in other states.

There are other problems which are slowly being licked. Nitrogen must be stored under pressure in tanks, much like natural gas tanks, and there has been a limited storage capacity, both on the farm and at dealer - supply points. There is also a limited source for applicator equipment.

In the two-and-a-half-year period last June, the nation's total synthetic ammonia productive capacity was increased 67 per cent, but industry leaders say "the surface has only been scratched."

TV

der this change, Storer was granted permit for a channel 3 station in Miami. Ultrahigh frequencies generally are regarded as less desirable than very high frequencies.

The court said Storer' application for a Miami station was rejected without a hearing and without any consideration of the question of whether public interest, convenience or necessity would be served.

The Communications Act provides for a hearing for any citizen who seeks a license for the lawful use of an available frequency, the court said. Therefore, it held, the denial of a hearing to Storer "is a denial of due process of law." The court added:

"It is conceivable that in some circumstances, common ownership of even five television stations, though permitted by the challenged rule, might be undue concentration of control; while in other circumstances, common ownership of a greater number might be compatible with the public interest."

Public Interest First

In any event, the court said, the commission must determine, after consideration of all factors, whether the grant of a license "would be within the comprehensive concept which the act calls 'the public interest, convenience, or necessity.'"

The court noted that it was ruling only on the commission's rule-making powers, not specifically on the denial of the Storer application. But in view of its holding, the court commented, the commission probably will set aside its denial and grant Storer a hearing.

The opinion was written by Judge Wilbur K. Miller and concurred in by Judges E. Barrett Prettyman and David L. Bazelon.

HOSPITAL HEAD DIES

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. C. H. Creed, 69, superintendent of the Athens State Hospital, died at the hospital today after a heart attack.

He had been head of the hospital since March 1932.

pleas judges to sit for incapacitated or disqualified probate judges.

The House passed and sent to the Senate bills setting up requirements for school administrators and supervisors, increasing the pay of township clerks and trustees and extending assessments against public utilities and railroads for operation of Ohio's public utilities commission.

Inspect 'Death House'

The legislative day also was marked by a brief visit by members of the House Judiciary Committee to "death house" at Ohio Penitentiary. Members viewed Ohio's ancient electric chair—which has taken the lives of 293 men and three women—as they continued their study of a bill which would substitute the gas chamber for electrocution in the execution of death sentences.

The penitentiary visit was a part of the committee's first hearing on the bill sponsored by Reps. Joseph E. Lady (R-Hardin), Karl Bauer (R-Stark) and Daily R. Turner (R-Seneca). Earlier, a Stark County witness had testified:

"Gas is the quickest and most humane method."

The witness was Nicholas J. Disimone, representing the McKinley Humane Society. He said electrocution of animals at Canton has been replaced by the use of cyanide gas—the same type used in gas chambers for humans condemned to death.

Hearing on OEA Bill

Thomas G. O'Keefe, representing the Ohio Education Assn., was the only witness in a first hearing on an OEA-sponsored bill to raise all salary minimums for school teachers. O'Keefe declared salaries must be raised if Ohio is to get the 17,000 additional teachers estimated to be needed in the next few years.

O'Keefe said most of the money for the pay boosts would come from local funds—not the state subsidies—but this view was disputed by Sen. Charles A. Mosher (R-Lorain), one of the five sponsors in the Senate.

Informed sources said the bill which would grant a sharp increase in teacher minimums, has little chance to get even Senate committee approval in its present form. No decision on it is expected before the Legislature makes up its mind many weeks hence on the nature and amount of the school subsidy for the next two years.

Anti-Discrimination Bill

The Senate Education Committee also held a first hearing on a bill by Sen. Joseph Avellone (D-Cuyahoga) to ban racial segregation in Ohio schools—in line with a U. S. Supreme Court decision that such segregation is unconstitutional.

One of the chief witnesses was John Francis of Columbus, president of the Ohio State Conference of Branches of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. He declared racial segregation is or has been a practice in many Ohio schools. All are making progress toward integration, he said. He listed the communities as Wyoming and Glendale, Cincinnati suburbs, Hillsboro; Chillicothe, and Middletown.

A subcommittee of the House Education Committee last night was assigned the task of combining three different bills into one measure for the creation of a state board of education. The principal issue is whether the board should be appointed or elected from the state's nine Appellate Court districts.

Assigned to the redrafting task were Reps. A. Bruce McClure (R-Hamilton), Thomas D. Gindlesberger (R-Holmes), Arthur H. Milner (R-Highland), James A. Lantz (D-Fairfield), William F. Rofkar (D-Ottawa), Robert H. Longsworth (R-Carroll), and Carol D. Long (R-Champaign).

Rayburn

leaders, as well as Washington newsmen, have been receiving advance copies of messages but Rayburn, official head of the House, had gotten his from Republicans or not at all.

He had not complained publicly but privately had let it become known that he did not like it.

A reporter called Rayburn's dissatisfaction to the attention of the President at his news conference yesterday. The President expressed surprise and said Rayburn, as well as other members of Congress, had a standing invitation to consult with the White House at any time.

Subsequently, James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, said advance copies of White House messages to Congress had been delivered to the office of the House Democratic and Republican leaders as soon as they were available.

House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts said he didn't know anything about that. In fact, he added, he had to get his copies from Republicans.

But an assistant to McCormack confirmed that bundle of messages have arrived. He said they have been left undistributed because there was no instructions concerning their disposal. Rayburn's copy apparently was among those thus consigned to a wastebasket.

The United States issued its first three-cent stamp in 1851.

Alvis Considered For Minnesota's Penitentiary Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Warden Ralph W. Alvis of Ohio Penitentiary confirmed today he is being considered for appointment as warden of the Minnesota State Penitentiary at Stillwater.

Alvis, although announcing he was happy in his present job and was not job hunting, confirmed he had acknowledged a letter from the Minnesota Warden Selection Committee inviting him to be a candidate for the Minnesota post.

Alvis said he had received a letter saying his name had been submitted, and added he assumes the selection committee has contacted others also.

The 50-year-old Alvis has been warden at Ohio Penitentiary in downtown Columbus since February 1948 when he succeeded Frank D. Henderson, who resigned.

The warden's job at Ohio Penitentiary, second largest in the nation in population, pays $9,480 a year plus a major share of maintenance, including a home.

Emphasis on Defense

Stassen said that economic aid in general would be supplied each member nation, with the emphasis on defense problems.

Australia's minister of external affairs, Richard G. Casey, said that no country at the moment was trying to meet the economic needs of Southeast Asia. He added that the treaty organization must consider the countries most directly threatened—Laos, Cambodia and South Vietnam.

Dulles gave a dinner tonight for British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden and Casey. Beforehand, Eden told newsmen he expected the question of Formosa to be discussed, but there were no reports how the conversations went.

Stresses Importance

Dulles stressed the importance of Formosa to the over-all defense of Southeast Asia in his talk to the closed conference yesterday.

In a sweeping review of the Far East situation he said potentially greater dangers face the free world now because of internal pressures on the Communist hierarchy.

In the face of these dangers, he stressed, not only the resources of Formosa but those of South Korea, Japan and Indochina are deeply involved in Southeast Asia security and he wished they were represented at the Bangkok conference.

Twenty South Korean divisions and 300,000 Nationalist Chinese troops ready to fight in Formosa and the offshore islands put a damper on Red China's warlike ambition in the Far East, he said.

Fear Three-Front War

Northern, central and southeast Asian forces, together with the mightiest U.S. Pacific fleet and air striking power in history, make Red China chary of starting what might quickly develop into a three-front war which China wants to avoid, he said.

He said Chiang Kai-shek's government on Formosa and Syngman Rhee's Republic of Korea must be maintained.

Dulles will visit Rangoon, capital of neutralist Burma, Saturday. He will look in on troubled Laos Sunday and visit Cambodia and South Viet Nam Monday, then fly to the Philippines for a conference of American Far Eastern ambassadors Tuesday.

His itinerary beyond the Philippines has not been made public but there are strong indications that he may visit Formosa.

U.S. Force Reviewed

In the closed meeting yesterday Dulles ticked off these components of the American force he said could strike anywhere in the Pacific:

A fleet of 400 warships including carriers and 300,000 men.

Five divisions of 350,000 men.

Thirty squadrons of Air Force jet bombers and interceptors plus other strategic forces.

He argued against breaking up this powerful force and assigning parts of it to Manila Pact nations. He urged instead that it be kept intact, able to strike anywhere needed and that the separate nations add their strength to that of the U.S. Pacific force.

Erie Reports $496,966 Earnings for January

CLEVELAND — Erie Railroad net income for January was $496,066 or 13 cents a share of common stock before capital and sinking funds, Paul W. Johnston, president annouced today. In January, 1954, net was $600,127 or 18 cents a share.

"Erie's prospects for 1955 continue good with an increase in earnings likely for the full year," Mr. Johnston said. "Last week's freight movements were the best since the third week in November."

January gross revenues were $12,183,820 compared with $12,734,347 last year, a decrease of $550,527 or 4.3 per cent.

Total operating expenses were $9,799,109 as against $10,163,114 in January 1954, a reduction of $364,005 or 3.8 per cent.

Miscalculators

By George Sokolsky

The miscalculations of statesmen are no different from the mistakes that any of us make. Statesmen are the same human beings that the rest of us are, except that they are supposed to be possessed of more information about important matters and a wider experience. It is not the possession of information that counts; it is the capacity to reason, to relate current material to the whole of human history, to grasp the impact of social forces and of psychological reactions to a pending matter that counts. Nations have been destroyed by the faulty judgment of those in power.

SOKOLSKY

Of statesmen, it can only be said that some possess such judgment and some do not, and often history, instantly written, discovers the truth.

-:-

MANY OF THE calculations of European statesmen concerning their own and global affairs were influenced by their certainty that the United States would suffer a severe depression after World War II. Even as late as November 1953, "The Manchester Guardian," that palladium of British liberalism, published two articles on "Danger Signs of an American Slump."

The first article appeared on Nov. 19, 1953 and here we are in the second month of 1955 and "we ain't got no depression yet."

Colon Clark said:

"The possible originating causes of depression—trifling or serious—in the American economy are now quite well understood by the ordinary well-informed man."

Well, the American people never quite understood what Clark's "ordinary well - informed man" knew, with the result that we passed through the year 1954 without going to the Devil.

Perhaps it is our ignorance that saved us. We just did not know how badly off we were, so we did nothing to make ourselves worse off. We just went on producing goods and helping Europe, including Great Britain, as though nothing were the matter with us.

We did not know that we were as sick as Colin Clark diagnosed us to be. It is sad, indeed, that we are so unconscious of our defects, but somehow the Lord takes care of us, as He does of pigeons and drunks.

IN A LEARNED editorial, "The Manchester Guardian" comments on the views of American economists:

"They expect to see between three and four million unemployed at certain periods of next year. Their reasons are much the same that Mr. Clark puts forward. But all of them, so far as we know, differ from him in one crucial point. They are convinced that the government is able to take effective counter-action to prevent the recession from getting out of hand. This is where Mr. Clark makes his chief point. He admits that Washington has learned the lesson taught by Keynes—in a depression, you must spend, not retrench. But if they are Keynesians, they are not Keynesian enough. . ."

The truth of the matter is that the American consumer took care of the American market in 1954 and did rather well.

It is true that the administration failed to balance the budget, to reduce the national debt or restore the value of the dollar as it has promised to do. Despite all that, we did not go broke and have, in fact, shouldered a heavier-than-ever budget, which while it has not yet passed Congress, will in one form or another.

And General Motors has entered upon a larger production program than ever before.

THIS IS WHAT "The Manchester Guardian" says about us:

"Up and down that vast country, business people, farmers, and ordinary consumers have been looking over their shoulders almost constantly for the last five years. They are always torturing themselves to decide whether they have borrowed too much, bought too much stock, or committed themselves too far to be safe in the event of a set-back. Yet business men have not shown any intention so far of reducing their expenditure for new plant and equipment even in 1954, and consumers have behaved with complete confidence. It would need more than the absence of a new stimulus to thrust that prosperous nation into chaos."

Brother, if you have not been looking over your shoulder, you should have. There is no telling what ghost of a depression you might have seen during 1954!

Cheese Bread Will Pep Up Late-Winter Meals

In spite of all the wonderful foods in the markets, meals can become dull and routine. This is likely to happen in late winter before fresh spring crops appear.

A loaf of golden brown cheese bread is perfect to serve to perk up appetites and add interest to everyday meals.

Use:

1 cup hot water
¼ cup sugar
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons warm (not hot) water
1 package active dry yeast or 1 cake fresh yeast
1 egg, well beaten
½ cup wheat germ
1½ cups (6 ounces grated American cheese
3½ cups sifted flour

Combine hot water, sugar and salt in large bowl; stir until sugar dissolves; cool to lukewarm. Crumble yeast into warm water in small bowl; stir to dissolve and add to sugar-water mixture. Stir in egg, wheat germ, cheese and flour. Turn out on lightly floured board; knead quickly and lightly until smooth and elastic.

Place in a greased bowl; brush top with melted shortening; cover with clean towel and let rise in warm place until double in bulk (about 1 hour and 15 minutes).

Turn out on well-floured board; shape dough into loaf; place in greased 9 x 5 x 3 inch bread pan; cover with clean towel; let rise in warm place about 40 minutes, until doubled in bulk. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 40 minutes. Remove from pan, brush with melted shortening; cool on wire rack before slicing.

Local Legion Post Making Plans for Baseball Program

Reports of various future activities were given when Bird-McGinnis Post No. 62, American Legion, met Tuesday night in the Dugout.

Commander Don Williams reported on the Junior Legion baseball program. Plans are under way for a meeting at a later date of all boys who want to play ball in the Legion program. The date will be announced. It also was announced equipment has been acquired to form a farm system this year, instructing younger boys so they will be able to play in future years.

Post membership to date totals 605 and the drive will continue until March 15. Howard Sines announced plans for a fish fry to be held March 8 for members and their wives. A district spring conference was announced for March 3 at Utica, with James Wagonseller of Lancaster, state commander, as speaker.

Right To Vote

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Curbstone reflections of a Pavemen Plato:

If Congress proposed a constitutional amendment making it illegal for anyone under 21 to drive an automobile, what would happen?

HAL BOYLE

Millions of teen - agers would let out an outraged cry that would echo from here to Mars. They'd write endless chain letters of protest, make mass marches on the nation's capital, picket the White House by day and by night.

They'd fight by fair means or foul—even ask Dad and Mom to help—to preserve what they regard as youth's inalienable right to drive a motor car.

BUT SEVERAL MILLION teenagers now have the opportunity to fight for the greatest single privilege of American democracy, and by and large, their attitude seems to be one of indifference. I refer to their lukewarm reaction to proposals to lower the voting age from 21 to 18.

Youth has got President Eisenhower in its corner in this matter. He backs the idea of extending the ballot to 18-year-olds. But they themselves don't seem steamed up about it. Somehow, that's kind of sad, too.

Many older people, of course, feel that 18-year-olds are too lacking in judgment and responsibility to be given the right to vote.

That same fear in the early days of the Republic resulted in restrictions that limited the right of young to property owners. The same fear kept women from having the vote for more than a century.

"Universal suffrage," contemptuously remarked Otto von Bismarck, "is the government of a house by its nursery."

BUT IN 1836 a forward-thinking young lawyer of 25—fellow named Abraham Lincoln—had just the opposite thought.

"I go for all sharing the privileges of the government who assist in bearing its burdens," he wrote, adding he favored the right of suffrage for those "who pay taxes or bear arms, by no means excluding females."

Today, proponents of earlier voting point out, there are roughly five million citizens between 18 and 21 who are now taxed without representation. Youth is not exempt from taxes on thousands of items, any more than the elderly are.

About 1,500,000 are married and most of the men in that age group are, of course, subject to military duty.

PERSONALLY, I wouldn't give a hoot if every guy and his girl got to vote at 18. If we trust them out on a public highway in a 150-horsepower auto, why not trust them to show at least ordinary common sense in a voting booth?

Georgia has let its 18-year-olds vote for quite a spell now—it's the only state that does—and has survived the experiment in fine shape. And why not? Isn't anyone at 18, when patriotism and idealism and honesty are at their peak, as likely to cast a selfless vote as he would be at 45?

If we accept the logic of Abe Lincoln, we can hardly deny the ballot, merely on the grounds of age, to young men and women who work, pay taxes, and bear arms when called upon.

But it would be more heartening if our youth got all stirred up over the issue, marched on Washington, and really fought to win the right to vote. Teen-agers with the spirit to do that would be our democracy's true "hopes of tomorrow."

BUT THINGS GRANTED for the mere taking usually wind up being merely taken for granted. A stranger to our civilization might ask us puzzledly: "What do you really hold to be more important—the right to vote, or the right not to vote?"

Fewer than half the eligible people vote in many American elections. In the 1948 presidential election only 51.5 per cent of the population of voting age cast ballots. Even after the hot campaign of 1952 the figure climbed only to 52.7.

Since so many adult Americans hold their heritage in such slight esteem, perhaps it would be wise to drop the voting age not just to 18, but down to 13. You can bet the high school kids would have a better voting record than the grownups.

State's Mental Hospitals Need More Funds, Legislators Claim

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—A touring trio of state senators has decided Ohio mental hospitals need more money, as a common solution for a variety of problems.

Today the senators' tour led to Apple Creek State Hospital. Yesterday they were at Woodside Receiving Hospital in Youngstown and the Summit County Receiving Hospital in Cuyahoga Falls.

Theodore M. Gray (R-Piqua), Edward H. Dell (D-Middletown) and Fred L. Hoffman (R-Cincinnati) form a subcommittee of the Ohio Senate's Finance Committee. They will report on their tour to the full committee. The state department of mental hygiene and correction has proposed a statewide program for mental institutions at a cost of about 14 million dollars.

Agreeing that more money was needed, Sen. Gray said one of the questions is "how much?" and the other senators added, "Where do we get it?"

Gray commented that the subcommittee has noted considerable differences in the hospitals visited thus far. Their trip has included three institutions in the Cleveland area, in addition to those visited yesterday.

The Summit County Receiving Hospital lacks recreation space, and for some unexplained reason it has nearly twice as many women patients as men. The women's wards are crowded and seven serious cases are on a "top priority" waiting list.

At Woodside the touring senators found there were a number of beds open. They were told this was a temporary condition.

A 1954 graduate of Bucyrus High School, the bride is employed here by the Crawford County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office. Her husband is employed by the Timken Roller Bearing Co. here. They will live in Bucyrus.

Bucyrus Solicitor Handed Request on Municipal Courts

BUCYRUS — City Council here has referred to Solicitor Robert Brown a recommendation by the Crawford County Bar Association for establishment of a municipal court system in the county.

The bar association adopted a resolution favoring the proposal this month and copies of the resolution have been sent to all village and city councils in the county and to State Rep. Terry Drake and State Sen. J. E. Simpson of Forest.

The resolution states that two or more municipal courts are needed in the county but the county could not furnish a full-time judge because of inadequate pay. It recommends to the legislature that legislation be enacted to provide two or more municipal courts in the county so that each could have a part-time judge.

Testimony Disputed

FCC's Hearing on Lamb Called to Ike's Attention

WASHINGTON (AP)—The tumultuous Edward Lamb hearing which so far has produced over a million words and two government witnesses who admitted some of them were false grinds to at least a temporary halt today

Working against a noon deadline set by presiding examiner Herbert Sharfman Communications Commission attorneys readied a fifth batch of questions for Lowell Watson of Olathe Kan one of the witnesses who has recanted his earlier testimony against Lamb

Then examination will conclude the commission staff's attempt to support allegations that Lamb — a Toledo Ohio lawyer publisher and broadcaster—once knowingly associated with Communists and contributed money to Communist causes

Allegations Denied

Lamb has emphatically denied the accusation and his counsel charged that commission representatives tried to induce persons to testify falsely against him

When Watson leaves the stand Lamb's attorneys are prepared to ask for a recess to give them time to draw up a motion proposing that the hearing be terminated and that the case against Lamb be thrown out on the ground it is not worth answering

If Sharfman rejects the expected Lamb petition the hearing would then resume after a few days with the broadcaster's defense—a matter his lawyers say of a week or 10 days

Lamb is fighting for renewal of his license for television station WICU at Erie Pa When he applied for it last year the commission brought up its allegations of Communist associations

Sums Up Case

Summing up his opinion of the commission's case Lamb's counsel Russell Morton Brown told reporters that only one of the 19 commission witnesses actually had something to say against Lamb

That witness he said is Mrs Marie Natvig of Miami Beach Fla

If Mrs Natvig were telling the truth we would lose and should lose said Brown

Mrs Natvig however who swore she knew Lamb was connected with Ohio Communists in the 1930's is the second commission witness who repudiated testimony against Lamb A federal grand jury will look into her turnabout Monday

Both Mrs Natvig and Watson have said on the stand that commission personnel induced them to give false testimony The accusations against commission lawyers caused the Lamb case to pop up in two other Washington proceedings yesterday

President Eisenhower was asked about the matter at a news conference He said he had heard about the case that "it has been brought up in conversation in my office but added he would have to take a much closer look before he could express an opinion about it

McConnaughey Quizzed

And George McConnaughey chairman of the commission on a recess appointment bumped into sharp questioning about the Lamb case at a Senate Commerce Committee hearing on his nomination for a full term

McConnaughey a Columbus Ohio attorney said he didn't believe any commission staff members coached or coerced any witnesses to lie about Lamb but declared he couldn't answer any questions about the case because commission members are not allowed to get involved in cases being heard by an examiner.

Salt-Mine Shelter

LANSING Mich (AP)—Natural bomb shelters bigger than the tallest skyscrapers lie far underground in various parts of Michigan and could be put to use in the event of an atomic attack

The state conservation department is studying parts of the state where large beds of salt are surrounded by formations of hard rock Officials say the salt could be mined or washed away leaving large caverns suitable for bomb proof storehouses

One of the largest of these caverns is an old salt mine under the southeast section of Detroit It lies 250 feet beneath the surface and contains 250 million cubic feet of space If converted to storeroom use it could hold more stores than a building a block square and 100 feet higher than the Empire State building

Loss Estimated At $18,000 in Monnett Blaze

Loss is estimated at $18 000 from a four and one half hour fire which almost destroyed two greenhouses and a heating plant in Monnett early Wednesday

Mr and Mrs Perry TenEyck owners of the greenhouses said the blaze swept through most of two greenhouses gutted out a boiler room and destroyed many plants and flowers which were on hand for the Easter and spring season The loss is covered by insurance

Passersby first noticed the fire shortly before midnight Tuesday and stopped to awaken the TenEycks By the time the owners got to the greenhouses flames had burst through the walls The flames ravaged about 40 feet of one greenhouse and 30 feet of another and gutted out the inside of the cement block boiler room which was connected to the two greenhouses A third greenhouse which is fireproof was untouched Mrs TenEyck said that the blaze did not at any time threaten the residence which is located about 20 feet from the greenhouses

Firemen said no cause for the fire could be determined but that it started at the rear of the greenhouses in the area of the boiler room

In addition to the Monnett Volunteer Fire Department crews from the Tri Township New Winchester Whetstone and Holmes Liberty departments also fought the flames The blaze was finally extinguished about 4 30 a m after firemen had hauled additional water supplies from the Little Scioto River

State highway patrolmen and the Crawford County Sheriff's department were on the scene to direct traffic The greenhouses are located on Route 294 in Monnett

The TenEycks said they plan to rebuild the greenhouses as soon as possible and in the meantime will continue in business

155 Start Bid For $6,000 in Houston Open

HOUSTON, Tex (AP)—Cary Middlecoff and Gene Littler were the favorites today as 155 golfers began a 72-hole chase for the winter tour's biggest prize, $6,000 in top money in the $30 000 Houston Open

Middlecoff's habit of playing good golf in Houston made him a natural in the favorite's role He held only a narrow edge however over Littler, the young Californian who is playing the sprawling 7 200-yard par-72 Memorial Park course for the first time

Other long drivers who were expected to use the long wide fairways to advantage included Tommy Bolt, the winner at San Diego and Tucson, and Big Mike Souchak the new Texas Open champion

Then there were such name players as Marty Furgol the 1951 Houston champion who had a final warmup 66 yesterday and National Open titlist Ed Furgol, who had a 67

The only name players missing were Sam Snead Ben Hogan Lew Worsham and Bob Toski

Middlecoff appeared pleased with a 4-under 68 in his final practice round The Memphis dentist, winner of the Bing Crosby Invitational won the Houston tournament in 1950 and took a five-way playoff in 1953 He was runner-up by one stroke to Johnny Palmer in 1949 and by two strokes last year to Dave Douglas

Hamner Signs With Phils for Pay Increase

CLEARWATER Fla (AP)—Granny Hamner happy about a new contract with the Philadelphia Phillies at a reported $28 500 and the word from General Manager Roy Hamey that he would return to his old position at shortstop, forecast a good year for himself and the club

Hamner reached agreement with Hamey in the latter's hotel room yesterday in just 12 minutes It was believed he received a $3,500 increase

Hamey declined to reveal the infielder's salary but said he received a raise and was adequately rewarded for his 299 batting average and all-around play which won him an all-star position in 1954

Hamner was most pleased with the announcement he was going back to shortstop after a couple of seasons at second base

"That is my natural position" he said "I can do more things there than I can do at second Now I feel as if I'll be back at home and ready for my biggest year in baseball"

Santee Leaves Pan-American Games Roster

LAWRENCE, Kan (AP) — Wes Santee, racing against the calendar instead of a stop watch, won't run the 1,500-meters in the Pan-American Games next month in Mexico City.

The lean runner, America's fastest miler, says his degree in education at the University of Kansas is more important to him

"I would have to miss school from March 7 to March 20," he said "It would be foolish for me to take all that time when I need it on my studies

"I go into the Marines this summer for two years and I might never get back to school I want to get my degree before I enter the service"

Jim Kelly, chairman of the U S track and field committee for the Pan-American Games, said yesterday Santee would be replaced in the 1,500 meters by Bob McMillen of the Armed Forces.

College's Student Body Opposes Discrimination

CHICAGO (AP) — Elevators at Roosevelt University will be barred to men with mustaches and coeds under 5 feet 2 tomorrow Blondes will be barred from the library, and three floors, of the school will be open only to students with freckles The school newspaper said this method of observing Brotherhood Week was chosen to point up "the arbitrary and ridiculous distinctions of discrimination"

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market eased quietly today but most declines in the early afternoon were fractions.

There was some scattered demand for medium and low priced issues. But all major sections of the market—steels, motors, oils, utilities and railroads—favored the minus column.

The market opened higher and for a brief period the ticker tape could not keep up with the many transactions, mostly at improved prices. But after the tape cleared, trading slowed and most stocks inched downward.

The Bank of England raised its bank discount rate for the second time within a month, this time a full percentage point from 3½ to 4½ per cent. The action unsettled the London Stock Market and most U.S. brokerage houses attributed the "big board" decline to a sympathetic movement.

Lower stocks included Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Goodrich Boeing, Radio Corp., American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, General Electric, New York Central, Union Pacific, Standard Oil N.J. and Eastern Airlines.

Eaton Reports Lower Profits

1954 Earnings Equal To $4.78 Per Share

Eaton Manufacturing Co. and subsidiaries today reported net profit for the year 1954 of $8,559,021 eqal to $4.78 per share on the 1,789,942 shares outstanding, compared with $5.41 per share for 1953. The company operates an axle and forging plant in Marion.

Sales for 1954 were $165,210,359 while those for 1953 amounted to $201,064,203.

Board Chairman C. I. Ochs, in a letter to shareholders, said that the lower output of passenger cars and trucks together with cutbacks in shipments of defensive products accounted for the reduction.

He reported that the company's program to provide new equipment to improve products and reduce costs was carried on in all fourteen plants of the company. Expenditures for the year under this program reached a total of $8,541,405.

Ochs also reported that engineering and research continue to play an important part in the company's progress. Among new developments is an air-conditioning unit for automotive vehicles, and in the industrial field further improvements in punch press drives, "ajusto-spede" electric motors and power transmissions for lift trucks have met with good acceptance.

Although coal produced 90 per cent of U.S. energy supplies in 1900, it now produces less than 30 per cent.

Eat This Revolutionary New White Bread Better In Protein For Health Than Whole Wheat

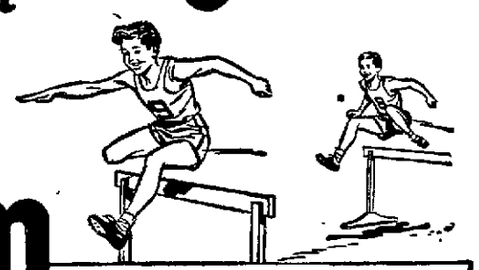
"HIGHER PROTEIN TO CALORIE RATIO"

Daffodil Farm ENRICHED BREAD



Eat Daffodil Farm Bread "Higher Protein To Calorie Ratio" FOR:

TRIM LEAN FLESH

To exercise weight control—control the appetite control center of your brain. Eat a protein-containing food 30 to 60 minutes before a meal to maintain the blood sugar level high enough—to normally appease your appetite control center. Reduce your craving for food so you eat less.

RICH RED BLOOD

Safe to say, protein is the most important food for the body as all cells are essentially protein in structure.

STRONG BONES AND TEETH

75% of muscle structure (dry) is protein. Pound for pound, the growing child requires twice the protein of an adult.

Bones and teeth growth is dependent upon protein. To make the "mould" into which Nature puts the minerals that make bones hard.

The "growing ends" of the long bones which determine height must have adequate protein or growth may be retarded.

STRENGTH AND VITALITY

A principal function of protein in adults is the preservation of the chemical machinery of vital organs and the hormone-producing glands.

On top of which, many of the hormones are made of proteins. Including some of those which regulate the most vital processes.

Contains About 26% Less Calories To Complete Protein Than The Average Of Whole Wheat Bread Or Ordinary White Breads Tested

A Remarkable New Advance In Nutrition Made Possible By The New Miracle Protein "Booster" From Milk

Sad but true—there is no "magic pill" to keep vitality up in your family.

Meat, milk, fish, eggs and high-protein ratio bread . . . energy foods like potatoes and beans . . . protective foods like green-leafed and yellow vegetables, oranges and tomatoes.

All these promote good health and vitality. And, of course, foods lower in calories help keep figures trim.

A White Bread Better Than Whole Wheat

No one questions the health advantages of whole wheat bread. But few relish the taste.

Daffodil Farm Enriched Bread is a great nutritional advance because four slices of "higher protein to calorie ratio" Daffodil Farm Enriched Bread equal five slices of the average of eleven whole wheat breads tested in complete protein content!

A truly remarkable development made possible by the miracle milk protein "booster"—lactalbumin.

Tastes Better—Toasts Better

And Daffodil Farm Enriched Bread gives you more vitamins and minerals. (See chart.)

And—Daffodil Farm Bread contains about 26% less calories to complete protein than the average of whole wheat bread or ordinary white breads tested. Best of all, Daffodil Farm Enriched Bread tastes so good!

Get it at your grocer's today. Note how firm the loaf is . . . filled with goodness instead of air! And fresh as a daisy! Try Daffodil Farm Enriched Bread today. You'll be glad you did.

Denver Home Economist Approves Daffodil Farm Bread

"It was exciting news to know that at least one bread company has been smart enough to make a loaf of white bread of such food value that 4 slices equal 5 slices of whole wheat bread in complete protein value. The name is DAFFODIL FARM BREAD."

Katherine Kellogg
Denver Dairy Council

WHY 4 SLICES OF DAFFODIL FARM BREAD ARE EQUAL IN PROTEIN FOR HEALTH TO 5 SLICES OF WHOLE WHEAT BREAD

COMPLETE PROTEIN VALUES

DAFFODIL FARM BREAD 79%

100% WHOLE WHEAT BREAD 53%

(Figures are per cent distribution of complete protein as limited by lysine (complete protein contains 5.3 g. of lysine per 100 g. protein) of equal weights of Daffodil Farm Bread and the average of eleven Whole Wheat Breads tested; lysine values based on microbiological assays by Food Research Laboratories.)

Slice for slice, compared with 100% Whole Wheat Bread, Daffodil Farm Bread gives the following relative values:

Calcium	+121%
Vitamin B_1	+7%
Vitamin B_2	+116%
Niacin	+44%
Iron	−7%

Ike's Proposal Heads for Trouble

Method of Financing Big Factor in Road Proposal

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of 1955's best understatements was in the report to President Eisenhower by his advisory committee on highways.

It said: "There can be no serious question as to the need for a more adequate highway system Only the cost and how it is to be met poses a problem.

Then the committee suggested a superhighway program and a way to pay for it. In terms much vaguer than the committee's, Eisenhower recommended it to Congress.

There it ran into a critical chorus: there was no disagreement on the need for better highways but plenty of questions on how to pay for them.

UNDER THE PRESENT program—if continued over the next 10 years—the government would spend 8¾ billion dollars on main and secondary roads

Under the proposed program—over the next 10 years—the government would spend 31 billion dollars; 25 billions on superhighways, 6 billion on lesser roads.

Under the present program the states, cities and towns are spending $3,825,000,000 a year, which would be $38,250,000,000 over 10 years

Under the proposed program—over 10 years—the states, cities and towns would be called on to spend 70 billion but only 2½ billion on superhighways.

So far and away the main cost of the superhighways would have to be borne by the federal government.

A special federal corporation would be created to handle the superhighway financing It would sell bonds to raise 25 billion dollars for a 10-year program with the bonds to be paid off in 30 years.

THE MONEY THE government got over 30 years from taxes on motor fuel would be specially set aside to pay off the bonds. And Eisenhower suggested the government might get revenue from toll roads.

This isn't the whole picture but it raises some of the main questions and arguments

Why set up a government corporation at all? Why not let the Treasury pay the costs out of its general fund as it does for other government debts?

It might be cheaper; the corporation might have to pay higher interest rates on its bonds than the Treasury pays on bonds it sells to raise money

(The committee estimated the corporation's interest costs over 30 years at 11 billion dollars. That, added to the 25 billion for superhighways, plus 6 billion for secondary roads, would make this new highway program cost at least 42 billion.)

BY LAW CONGRESS puts a limit on the money the government can borrow through the Treasury. Wouldn't setting up a special corporation which could borrow money be just a device to get around the debt limit and make the public debt look smaller?

Various interpretations have been put on the suggestions by the committee and the President on toll roads· for instance, that the government would not only pay states for existing toll roads that fit into the superhighway pattern but encourage them to build more thus adding to the expense of the public.

PLAN GALION SERVICE

GALION — Annual World Day of Prayer services, sponsored here by the Galion Council of Church Women, will be held Friday at 2 p m in the First Methodist Church The program will be presided over by Mrs Norman R Somerville, wife of the pastor of First Methodist All women of the city are invited to join in the service The offering will be divided between home and foreign missions.

More than one billion passenger journeys are made annually on British railways, of which over 200,000 are made on workingmen's tickets in the morning hours for one penny a mile.

How did you sleep last night?
How long has it been since you bought a new mattress and boxsprings?
Do you know that it costs about $1,000 a year to own and operate an up-to-date car?
That's $20,000 in 20 years.
Do you know that it costs about $150 for the finest in sleep equipment —guaranteed for 20 years?
That's about $7 50 a year.
Well then . . . isn't it sort of foolish to put up with that saggy old backbreaker of a mattress and springs any longer? Why try to sleep on them another night?
Why not drive to GROLL'S in Waldo and have a luxurious new outfit delivered right away? For your convenience GROLL'S are open to nine o'clock Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, and you can pay in easy monthly payments if you wish.

American College of Surgeons Seeking To Curb Bad Practices

CLEVELAND (AP)—The American College of Surgeons plans to keep a wary eye on the movement to curb bad practices in surgery, says its director, Dr. Paul R. Hawley.

For the past three years the college has given publicity to the need for eliminating fee splitting, ghost surgery and an unjustified surgery, and "the first objective of the college's publicity campaign has been achieved," he said last night.

The actual campaign against bad surgical practice has been conducted by local doctors, he continued, but "if the movement to curb bad practices begins to drag its feet, the regents (of the College of Surgeons) would consider reviewing the publicity program."

Dr. Hawley spoke at a dinner meeting of the college, held in connection with a regional session on medical research.

He credited "the cooperation of the public" with being the main force behind the improvement in surgical ethics.

Ghost surgery is the practice of one surgeon performing an operation in place of another, without the patient being informed of the substitution. Fee splitting occurs when a surgeon, without telling the patient, gives part of his fee to a doctor who has referred the patient to that surgeon.

Dr. Hawley said "at the present time most of the evidence of unethical practices comes from patients. All such charges are carefully and quietly investigated. The large proportion are substantiated, with the result that an increasing number of fellows (in the College of Surgeons) are expelled each year by the regents.

"The effect of this reaches much farther than the individuals involved," Dr. Hawley said. "Action in each such case exerts a restraining action on others."

The albatross ranks as the most powerful sea bird on the wing. Its air speed approximates 60 miles per hour.

Scout Night Observed At LaRue PTA Meeting

The pledge of allegiance to the flag, led by the members of Intermediat Girl Scout Troop No. 56, opened the meeting of the LaRue PTA Monday night at the school.

Lawrence Fields, president, had charge of the business meeting, during which several fund-raising projects were discussed. The group voted to sponsor a band concert to be presented by the VFW Band of Fostoria on March 14 or 28, whichever date the band is available. Gene Dunkin was appointed in charge of ticket sales.

Scout night was observed during the program which opened with the flag ceremony by the members of the Cub pack under the direction of Francis Montgomery. Cub master, Billy Dunkin told briefly of the pack activities and gave the names of leaders and den mothers. Mrs. Donald Virden, leader of the Intermediate Girl Scout Troop, gave a brief summary of the troop's activities for the year and presented the troop which engaged in a game using lemmy sticks and a chant which comes from an Indian tribe in New Zealand.

A skit, "A Very Grammatical Family," was presented by members of the eighth grade English class under the direction of Mrs. Fern Toyo. Mrs. Rowland McElheny introduced the numbers on the program.

OBSERVE DAY OF PRAYER

CRESTLINE — The Crestline Council of Church Women will observe World Day of Prayer with a sermon in the Crestline Baptist Church Friday at 2 p.m. "Abide With Me" is the theme for the annual World Day of Prayer, which is being observed for the 69th year in the United States. Students in grades three through six will attend a service at 2:45 p.m. Friday in First Methodist Church.

REPORT EARNINGS

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Dayton Light and Power Co. has reported 1954 earnings of $61,427,000. A 6.9 per cent, increase over 1953. The annual report, issued yesterday, said this represented $2.88 per share on common stock issued.

Assigned Scout Duty in National Guard

Eskimos Active in Defense of Alaska

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Writer

FT. RICHARDSON, Alaska (AP)—On the farthest corner of America, U.S. soldiers keep watch on what goes on in Russia.

The men are members of a little known but highly valued organization—the Eskimo scouts of the Alaskan National Guard.

The place is the Diomede Island group astride the border between this country and the Soviet Union—Little Diomede in the United States, Big Diomede across a few miles of water in Siberia.

Little Diomede Island is the closest point to Red territory. But the area in which the scouts live and work stretches for almost 5,000 miles along the bleak, rocky coastline and islands facing out over sullen seas and ice toward Siberia.

The Eskimo scouts (actually some of them are Indians) are probably the only members of a reserve type organization who are always on active duty without being called up or inducted into federal service. What they do in their daily work—hunting, fishing, trapping—fits perfectly the mission they would have if on constant government duty.

IF THERE IS a stranger in their land, they are almost certain to know about it. Perhaps they see him. Or perhaps there are only tell-tale signs—footprints, marks on a beach where a boat has landed, or the attitude of nervous game, whose eyes and ears are ever more sensitive than those of an Eskimo.

For generations, the Eskimo has lived by his skill at stalking food and fur animals. He has a natural and amazing skill in the art of camouflage, of moving fast, shooting accurately.

The U. S. Army has no illusions about using the Eskimo scout as a combat infantryman in a regular unit. He is neither armed nor temperamentally equipped for it. His great value to the Army is for patrol and, in some degree, guerrilla action. The scouts serve as a reconnaissance screen at the outermost perimeter of the defenses.

FOR YEARS, the scouts were armed with obsolete Enfield and Springfield rifles, hand-me-downs from World War I. Only now are they being equipped with modern M-1 rifles. When the scout leaves his village for a hunting trip along the coast, he carries two guns—his own game rifle and his military weapon.

The scout keeps sharp watch not only afield but at home. On Little Diomede, American Eskimos could give an almost hour-by-hour report on the movements of their neighbors on Big Diomede, whom they watch by telescope.

On St. Lawrence Island, 150 miles to the south, the same vigilance is maintained. 24 hours a day, toward the approaches over ice or by water.

Scouts say there isn't much migration or travel between Soviet and American territory now. They do not say there is none. A few years ago fishing and hunting parties of Eskimos often crossed the boundary.

ALASKA'S ESKIMOS had other visitors from Asia 15 years ago. In 1940, they reported to the territorial government that a Japanese survey party had landed at one point, looked over the country and people and left. This was more than a year before Japan declared war and succeeded in gaining a foothold in the Aleutian chain.

The Eskimo reconnaissance force is organized into two battalions, one with headquarters at Nome, the other at Bethel. Organically, they have two missions: a territorial militia for home defense; members of the national guard which is a civilian component of the Army.

Although the Eskimo knows far more about the science of scouting and patrol in the arctic and subarctic than white members of a military organization, he must be trained to adapt his knowledge to the requirements and operational techniques of a regular military force.

Therefore, the Army operates at Ft. Richardson a three-week course at a noncommissioned officers school and a two-week course in radio. Here the scout NCOs learn to look for the specific intelligence the military needs and the forms of reporting information.

BUCYRIANS CONTRIBUTE

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus area residents contributed 138 pints of blood at the first 1955 visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile here Monday. Goal was 150 pints. The visit was sponsored by the Swan Rubber Co. Crawford County Red Cross chapter officers announced today that the bloodmobile will return here June 7.

Pitching, Outfield Better

Hack Sees First Division Spot for Cubs

By STAN HACK
Chicago Cubs Manager

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—There isn't any doubt in my mind that the Cubs will be an improved club in 1955. I'm so sure that we will be a first division club that I'll be terribly disappointed if we do not make it. I don't see how we can miss. We've improved our team more than any other club in the league.

I don't think I'm too far off when I say we should be at least 15 games better than the Cub team which finished 11 games out of the first division last year. Actually, if you look back on it, we were not definitely out of the first division until the very late stages of the race. And I still think we could have made it if some injuries, including Ramson Jackson's infected hand, had not set us back on our heels.

Everything now points to a better year. We're certain to be a better team in '55 because we couldn't be much worse at times than we were in '54.

Problems Solved?

We had two major problems last year. We needed better pitching and we never quite solved our outfield problem. I think now both these matters have been solved.

We'll have 21 pitchers or more in camp and seven of them had a combined minor league record of 129 victories and only 53 defeats last season. I know we'll be much stronger in the pitching department. I'm told Sam Jones, whom we got from Cleveland in the Ralph Kiner deal, is now ready for the majors. I'm counting on him as a starter along with holdovers Bob Rush, Paul Minner, Warren Hacker and Jim Davis with Howie Pollet working in spots.

I wouldn't be surprised if Bobby Thorpe, who won 28 and lost only 4 for Stockton last year, is ready right now for the majors. John Andre, who won 21 for Shreveport; Hy Cohen, who won 16 for Des Moines, and John Pyecha, who was the best pitcher on the Coast League last year, are other possibilities.

Better Defensively

Our outfield will be better defensively. With Kiner gone, we can restore Hank Sauer to left field, where he is accustomed to playing, and we can spell Frankie Baumholtz in right field with any one of three younger players. They tell me that Gale Wade, another we got from the Indians, is a terrific center fielder, a dangerous hitter and a great base runner, with rookies Jim Bolger and Solly Drake to back up Wade in center, we can use either Ted Tappe or Bolger in right. We still have Bob Talbot and Don Robertson will get a good shot at a regular job.

Our infield with Gene Baker and Ernie Banks as the second base combination is second to none in the National League. We also are strong both at first and third base. I feel sure that Dee Fondy and Jackson will have better seasons.

Better Catching

I know our catching will be better. Especially if it's true about Harry Chiti, who is just out of the Army. He could be our No 1 catcher. He's a powerfully built kid with a good throwing arm, lots of pepper and talent to match. We still have Walker Cooper and Clyde McCullough, our two veterans, and a pair of youngsters in Jim Fanning and Elvin Tappe.

I'm really enthused about our overall picture. For the first time our farm system is beginning to pay off. If everybody has a good year and if four or five have outstanding years we could go all the way.

2 Brother Combinations Click For Galion High Cage Squad

GALION — The Galion High School Tigers may or may not win the Northern Ohio League championship this year, but the team has one distinction over its opponents, and one that may be different than any other in the state—there are two brother combinations playing on the varsity quintet. They are Harold (Tubby) Garverick and his brother, Harry and the Miller brothers, Herb and Charlie.

Old timers don't recall another year that there were two brother combinations on the first team at the same time.

The brother teammates have many things in common, it was learned from their coach, Jack Shuck. "They are very cooperative—the Garvericks and the Millers; and while the brothers will pick at each other, it doesn't work to have anyone else pick on his brother."

In both brother combinations, one is a senior and the other a junior, and it is the junior that is the taller of the two.

Tubby Garverick, 5-11, 160 pounds, a senior guard, made the team before his junior brother, Harry, 6-1, 160 pounds and while Tubby is second leading scorer on the team this position is shaky because Harry, third high scorer, is about ready to take it away from his brother. Both lettered in basketball last year.

Tubby excelled in football, making the guard position on the Northern Ohio League team last fall and chosen honorary captain of the NOL team. He lettered in football three years and last fall received the McNew trophy as outstanding lineman on the Galion team.

It's a well-known fact around the league with coaches and players that Harry Garverick is an avid coon hunter—there's nothing he likes better than to take his dog and chase a coon up a tree.

Besides playing forward position on the regular squad and being third high scorer, Harry is a baseball pitcher. He played football two years ago but didn't report last season.

The Garvericks are sons of Mr and Mrs. Harold Garverick of 200 S. Pierce St.

About the Miller brothers Herb Miller, a senior, is 5-10 145 pounds, seventh member of the varsity squad and extra guard. His junior brother, Charlie Miller, 6-1, 160 pounds, is regular forward on the squad. Both played with the junior varsity team last year. Both will be lettermen this year. It is the younger of the Miller brothers that is the taller.

The junior brother, Charlie, played football and baseball while Herb is a track man. He won the Northern Ohio League pole vaulting championship last year. Herb is only a year older than his brother.

The parents of the Millers are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Miller of 423 Erie St.

Schoolboy Patrol Cage Benefit Nets $60 for Trip Fund

Approximately $60 was netted last night for the Schoolboy Patrol trip to Washington in May. The money was the proceeds from a basketball program pitting PTA mothers against women teachers in the city school system and PTA fathers against the men teachers at Taft gymnasium.

In the preliminary game, the mothers nailed an 11-5 verdict over the women teachers. Strickland netted nine markers to top the winners while Evans was high for the teachers with three.

The fathers notched a 61-46 victory over the men teachers. Busler and Roseberry pumped in 16 points each to lead the winners while Marion Waits and John Luginbuhl with 12 were high for the teachers. Officiating the games was Don Williams who donated his services.

Special Music Is Given During Church Services

Special music at the New Life Rally service last night at Wesley Methodist Church was by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stafford who sang a duet and by a quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Lashey, Mrs. W. A. Ginder and Charles Williams.

Organizations attending as special groups were the Men's Bible Class, Frank Eyster's Class, Eugene Lashey's Class, the High School Class and the Crusaders and Victory Classes.

Those expected to attend tonight are the Woman's Society of Christian Service, the Older Youth Class and the Women's Bible Class. The sermon by the pastor Rev. W. L. Stafford will be on "These Received New Life."

Program Has Political Appeal

Democrats Facing Hard Job in Beating Ike in '56

By DAVID BARNETT

WASHINGTON (NANA) — The administration's highway program which went to Congress this week, brings to at least $32,800,000,000 the amount President Eisenhower has put on the legislative line for essentially new programs since the Democratic-controlled Congress opened.

The federal dollars, some in outright grants, some in government insurance funds, have been asked since Jan. 5, by the Republican President for the fields of highways, schools and health.

And the scope of the requests underscores the problem of the Democrats in devising a congressional program that will outdraw the President's personal popularity and the Republican program at the polls next year.

The highway program lists a federal outlay of about $25,000,000,000 as part of a $101,000,000,000 highway expansion program over the next 10 years.

Of the $25,000,000,000 federal share, $20,000,000,000 would be provided by a bond issue.

FOR HEALTH, the President has proposed the following expenditures:

$100,000,000 as a direct draft on the federal debt to capitalize the federal program for reinsuring private hospitalization plans.

$350,000,000 in contingent liabilities for a new health facility—similar in operation to the Federal Housing Agency—to insure construction mortgages on local health projects.

An unestimated amount for additional grants to states partly to defray the medical-care costs of all persons in public assistance rolls.

For schools, the president asked:

$8,000,000,000 in contingent liabilities to guarantee state schools construction authority bonds

$20,000,000 grants to states to finance local and state conferences designed to study existing state limitations on school taxes and debts

THE BILL FOR all these programs, even if they are passed, would not be presented at one time. The highway program, for instance, is to be paid for in 30 years.

More than $25,000,000,000 would be financed outside of the national debt limit—i.e., it would not be subject to the ceiling placed by congress on the amount of debt the federal government can run up. The limit currently is $281,000,000,000, but it is scheduled to go back down to $275,000,000,000 at the end of this fiscal year.

In the search for political appeal in this Congress the Democrats have come through with a tax-cut proposal and highway and school programs of their own.

The tax cut, of $20 to each taxpayer and dependent starting next January, has been approved by the House ways and means committee.

A subcommittee of the Senate public works committee has started hearings on the Democratic highway bill, which would appropriate an additional $1,600,000,000 a year for the next five years for highways. The bill, sponsored by Sen. Albert Gore (D., Tenn.), also would increase the federal share of the cost of interstate highways.

The Senate labor committee has been holding hearings on the administration's education bill and has managed to find many witnesses against it and few, except for executive agency personnel, in favor of it.

MORRAL SERVICE SLATED

An afternoon service tomorrow marking World Day of Prayer will be held by the Morral Baptist and Methodist Churches at the latter church at 2 o'clock. Mrs. William Burley is the chairman. Included will be presentation of a drama "The Fruit of the Vine."

US men have a higher death rate from heart disease than those in most other countries, although the death rate for US women from heart disease is about average

Curiosity of Youngsters, Electricity Won't Mix

BOSTON (UP)—A child's curiosity combined with electricity can produce tragedy.

The American Mutual Liability Insurance Co.'s Institute for Safer Living says more than 40,000 home electrical accidents occur yearly. Many of these have killed or seriously injured children.

The institute said most home electrical mishaps stem from open-type baseboard outlets and from lamp or other floor cords easily reached by children. The second largest group results from toasters and other appliances left connected after use

"Most fatal shocks are produced by children poking bobby pins, tableware or similar metal objects into outlets and appliances," the institute added.

Sweden reports that a record 339,789 non-Scandinavians visited there in 1954, most from Western Germany (103,545) with Americans second (65,878)

OWU Students Open Showing Of 'Oklahoma'

DELAWARE — A three-night run of the popular Rodgers and Hammerstein musical "Oklahoma" opens at 8:15 p.m. tonight in the Willis High School auditorium under the sponsorship of the senior class of Ohio Wesleyan University.

With repeat performances Friday and Saturday at the same time, Ohio Wesleyan is one of the first colleges in the country to be granted use of the music by Richard Rodgers and book and lyrics by Oscar Hammerstein II.

Proceeds from the production will be given by the senior class to the University to help pay the expenses of its extensive international student program.

"Oklahoma" is known as the longest-run musical in the history of the theater. It had a five-year run in New York City, was presented 2,246 times and was seen by more than 8,000,000 people during its run there. It also has been made into a movie which will be released this summer.

Ohio Wesleyan's presentation of the musical will be an all-student production, with the exception of its director, Floyd Mussard, of Delaware, who is assistant to the treasurer of the college.

RADIO STATION STRUCK

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Seventy-three announcers and other staff members struck the government-run Norwegian radio network for higher wages yesterday. Two officials kept the network on the air with weather reports, recorded music and tape - recorded programs.

Service School Program Is Started by U.S. Navy

Inauguration of a service school program for high school graduates was announced today by the Navy recruiting station at Mansfield, which sends a Navy recruiter to the Courthouse here every Tuesday and Wednesday.

The program assures qualified high school graduates assignment to a service school and is based on a score attained on a screening test. Enlistment will be effected in one of four fields—electronics, hospital, airman and general. The electronics field has 14 schools, hospital two schools, airman one fundamental school and 12 technical schools, and general 26 schools.

Interested young men may contact the local Navy recruiter at the Courthouse, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. every Tuesday and Wednesday or visit the Mansfield recruiting office which is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon.

Study Made of Price Control in Europe

U.N. Report on Oil Cartel Suppressed

By ERNEST ASHWICK

GENEVA (NANA) — Inquiries are to be made by United Nations headquarters in New York regarding alleged pressure which certain big oil combines attempted to exert for the suppression of a U.N. document showing their machinakeeping up the price of gasoline for consumers in Europe.

Certain oil combines sent representatives to Geneva to see Gunnar Myrdal, executive secretary of the economic commission for Europe, whose representatives were formulating the document. Myrdal, owing to pressure brought to bear by oil-combine representatives, sent an expert to New York to discuss with U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold whether the document should be published.

The secretary - general replied that outside pressure on United Nations specialized organizations could only damage the integrity of the organization as a whole and gave the order to carry on with its publication. But it now seems that the report has become a "top secret" document reserved only for governments and their U.N. advisers.

The 39 - page document titled "The Price of Oil in Western Europe" states that the oil industry is subject to a wide network of cartel practices and that "the United States oil prices are the keystone of this world structure — divorced from all commercial forces."

The price of oil could only be lowered in western Europe, states the report. "The price paid by Europe for Middle East oil is tied to that of the United States. If this link were severed, the prices charged on sales to European markets could be significantly lowered."

There's no compelling economic reason to tie the price of Middle East oil to that of the United States, U.N. experts assert in the report. It is contended that to insure a more rational price structure it would be necessary:

1—To establish a pattern of relative prices for the different products which will make most attractive commercially their products in proportions appropriate to western European demands, and

2—To insure that pricing practices are such that efficient non-combine refineries can compete on equal terms with the combines.

The report will be discussed at a secret meeting of European and United States Delegates here in Geneva next month.

MAILMAN RETIRES

WOLCOTT, N. Y. (UP) —Mailman W. Carlyle Harper has retired to a life of fishing and "just tinkering around" after wearing out 19 automobiles while driving an estimated 390,000 miles as a rural deliverer. On one of his last rounds, the 60-year-old Harper left to each of his 270 regular customers a photograph of himself and his wife, who often accompanied him on the route. On the back of each photo was printed a poem written by Harper.

MUSICIANS TRAVEL

EUREKA, Calif. (UP) — Music means so much to the residents of this sparsely populated part of Humboldt County that some of the 60 members of the Humboldt Little Symphony travel 130 miles weekly to attend rehearsals. Made up of housewives, ministers, teachers and retired persons, the Little Symphony has been making music in the northernmost part of California since 1933.

New Types Alfalfa Now Being Tested

PIERRE, S. D. (UP)—Dr. John W. Headley, president of South Dakota State College, says that experts at his institution are developing a new type of alfalfa that may be "revolutionary."

Headley, testifying before the legislature's appropriations committee, said a "sample" of the alfalfa can spread quickly to cover a small plot of ground.

Other authorities said the new type was a "creeping alfalfa that really creeps."

Headly said the new alfalfa might be a "revolutionary forage," if the problem of bloat is solved in the cattle and sheep that feed on alfalfa.

About 36,500 U.S. people were killed in motor vehicle accidents in 1954, nearly 2,000 fewer than in 1953.

Expedition To Probe Into Lives Of Residents in Ancient Egypt

CAIRO (UP) — Archeolcgists of the University of Pennsylvania will set out on an expedition at Mit Rehina, on the site of ancient Memphis, early in 1955 to search for little-known facts in the life of the ancient Egyptian commoner.

The expedition will be a joint undertaking by the university's museum and the Egyptian department of antiquities.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dimick of Washington, D. C., came to Cairo last summer in advance of the university group, which is expected to arrive here next February.

Dimick, a research associate with the university, said the expedition will be under the direction of Dr. Rudolph Anthes, curator of the Egyptian department of the university's museum.

Dimick credited the present Egyptian regime for choosing "selected outside interests" to cooperate with Egyptian archeologists in tackling the mountainous amount of research that remains to be done here.

Dimick said the government evinced keen interest in the plans for the forthcoming expedition and showed "enormous good-will" in extending to the museum all the privileges needed for the work at Mit Rehina.

The associate Egyptologists and scientific personnel for the expedition will be supplied by the university and the department of antiquities.

The university will underwrite the physical costs of the joint venture. rest-house, provided by the Egyptian government, will be maintained by the university at Mit Rehina for the personnel.

The archeologists intend to dig up at Mit Rehina "the lesser known facts about the life of the ancient Egyptian common man, his implementations, housing and living conditions," Dimick said.

This work on the vestiges of ordinary people of long ago will contrast sharply with the much-publicized excavations at the Sakara necropolis, a short distance uphill from Mit Rehina.

Generations of archeologists have concentrated their researches on the pyramids and other tomb structures at Sakkara, where pharaohs and other great personages were buried at death in their glittering ornaments.

Mit Rehina lies in the area of the original Nile flood and has suffered from perennial inundation, whereas the Sakkara plateau was spared the ravages of the floods.

The forthcoming expedition intends to carry on the thorough research in Egyptology conducted by the University of Pennsylvania museum in the past and to fire the imagination of the public with the far-flung field work of its staff of archeologists.

While laying the groundwork for the expedition, Dimick is also on a research fellowship with the American Research Center in Egypt Inc. He is collaborating with Dr. Bernard Bothmer, director of the research center, until the Mit Rehina excavations get under way.

The mission of the research center is to establish a permanent headquarters for American archeologists in Cairo.

Youthful Editor Is Carrier for Opposing Daily

OSKALOOSA, Ia. (UP) —One of the Oskaloosa Daily Herald's youngest employes is also its most youthful competitor.

Fourteen-year-old James Ferree has been turning out a neighborhood newspaper for a year and already has added new equipment. He has junked an old-fashioned press for a small commercial-type machine.

He has switched from a summer weekly to a monthly because of school work.

Young Ferree does all the writing and type - setting and his mother is proofreader. Little sister Judy, had helped, too, but she committed the error unforgivable in every shop—she spilled the type!

When he isn't putting his own paper to bed, Ferree serves as editor of the Webster school paper and delivers the Oskaloosa Herald, for which he won an outstanding newspaper boy" award.

He also won the swiftest Master Craftsman Award, is a member of the United Amateur Printers, subscribes to four printing magazines and keeps contact with amateur printers elsewhere in the nation.

Like operators of other nondailies, Jim turns to commercial printing after the paper is out. He prints Valentine and Christmas cards, stationery for relatives and occasionally tickets for an organization.

Private Power in Dilemma

Victory on Dixon-Yates Contract May Be Costly

By JAMES FREE

WASHINGTON (NANA) — Private power interests may find the Dixon-Yates contract victory — if the outcome does prove to be victory in spite of legal hurdles yet to be met — will be one of the most costly in the history of the industry.

It could even turn out to be such a heavy casualty affair for the private power cause that winning the long-range war with public power will be doubly difficult.

This is the view of the vice chairman of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy, Rep. Carl Durham (D., N.C.), who is a strong defender of private enterprise. Durham has been against Dixon-Yates because he thinks it is bad business for the government and too much protection for private utilities.

"THE ATOMIC ENERGY Commission has been forced into the electric power business and into partisan politics against its will," said Durham. "The AEC ought to have been the last agency pushed into the middle of a public power vs. private power, or a pro-TVA vs. anti-TVA battle. But it's in the middle now, and it may be harder to get AEC out of the electric power business than some people think."

Durham's idea is that AEC's soaring needs for electric power might compel a speed-up in development of nuclear power as a commercially acceptable substitute. And, if that happens, private utilities could be the big losers financially.

It is true that private utilities have been doing some experimental work in power production through atomic reactors. Consolidated Edison Co. of New York wants to start work on a 125,000-kilowatt plant of this type at an early date. Yet AEC's tight security rules have made progress in this field by private firms rather slow.

NOT UNTIL RECENTLY were private companies able to find out the prices that AEC would pay for fissionable materials produced by private enterprise. Under the law, all such materials remain under control of the AEC and can be sold only to AEC. Moreover, private companies charge that AEC is not offering a big enough price for privately produced plutonium to stimulate greater effort.

Obviously, for some time to come AEC will keep tight control over the yet-to-be-born industry that will make atomic power for commercial use. If this development comes before private electric utilities are fully prepared for converting to the new power source — as is entirely possible — then AEC would be the biggest power monopoly in the country's history.

The past few years have seen atomic power for nonmilitary use develop far faster than did electric power in that industry's early years. The atomic-power submarine already is on the scene. The Army is working on an atomic-power reactor for use at remote bases. The Air Force is busy trying to promote development of an atomic-power aircraft.

Atomic power as cheap or cheaper than electric power will be a reality in a relatively short time, in Rep. Durham's opinion. That's why he wonders if President Eisenhower and other advocates of private power have made a serious mistake by thrusting problems of electric power management on the Atomic Energy Commission.

New Course Added

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UP) — Short drag chanteys and sailor's hornpipes have taken their place in the curriculum of some 25,000 youngsters in rural Michigan schools.

The nautical ditties are being broadcast by some 20 radio stations throughout the state through tapes supplied by the University of Michigan Broadcasting Service. The songs are designed to provide a musical introduction to the 1955 Soo Locks Centennial celebration. The programs have become a standard part of the students' classroom work.

WILSON ENJOYS HIS JOKE. Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson (right) laughs heartily as he jokes with Fred Seaton (left) about President Eisenhower "stealing" Seaton from the Pentagon for a White House post. The occasion was the swearing in of Seaton, former Nebraska newspaperman, as an administrative assistant to the President, who turns to have a word with Mrs. Seaton.

Firecrackers Help Germans Enliven Pre-Lenten Carnival

FRANKFURT (UP) — With the pre-lenten carnival season getting into full swing city police here and elsewhere in Germany have an additional headache—firecrackers.

There is a law against using them within city and town limits, but an entire industry thrives on the very violation of this law by thousands of youths and grown-ups.

A police spokesman said that radio patrol cars have special orders to look out for noise-happy youngsters.

Press and government officials alike are in a permanent anti-firecracker campaign, but police admit that not too much can be done to stop "that nonsense" altogether.

It was with relief and surprise that Frankfurt newspapers noticed recently "that during New Year's parties and the first carnival events no casualties from fire works have been reported."

This was surprising because for the past seven years—in the meager era before the 1948 currency reform no one could buy any kind of fireworks—there wasn't a carnival season without accidents.

Burned hands were only the lighter wounds suffered from the premature explosion of a firecracker, and torn-off hands and destroyed eyesight were not unusual, especially when big explosives were touched off indoors.

The law forbids all fireworks in residential communities, but police know that noise-making has become a habit with so many people that it would be hopeless to try to enforce the law to the letter.

Some cities, like Regensburg and Bavaria, have classified their explosives in five groups, each being governed by different regulations.

The child under 18 who wants to enjoy carnival season but finds himself having less fun than the beer and champagne - drinking grownups may get rid of accumulated inferiority complexes by touching off what Regensburg police dubbed as "class one" explosives.

These are green and red flame matches, miniature crackers called "peas" and "leapfrogs" (with several small explosions in each cracker) and so-called table or stink bombs.

The latter are tiny glass vials filled with an evil-smelling liquid which evaporates immediately after the vial has splintered into small particles.

All agree that stink bombs are the worst of all carnival nonsense and not even fun, but no one forbids their sale.

To buy "class two" explosives you have to be 18 or older. That's why it can happen that at a public dance, when you think you are among grownups, someone may start the "fun" by exploding earshattering super-sized "thunderbag" crackers, confusing the music and frightening the dancers.

The remaining three groups of fireworks—some of them technical equipment for engineers and emergency squads — include the great amusement park cascades which only fireworks experts are allowed to purchase and operate. These can cost more than $2,000.

"You won't believe it, but even the average carnival addict sometimes buys up to $20 worth of fireworks to top off his house party with multi-colored lights and plenty of noise in the garden," one expert said.

Vigilantes on Road

CARDIFF, Calif. (AP)—A mother's vigilante committee is active here to curb reckless drivers who endanger their children.

Mrs. Grace Peterson, spokesman for the committee said each member carries pencil and pad to jot down license numbers of automobile owners violating safety rules. They report the numbers to the state highway patrol.

PHILLY FIRST

Atomic Cave Men

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Two stone and steel caves have been built at the University of Michigan for 20th century cavemen; those who work with the atom and its energy.

Two rooms, with concrete ceilings four feet thick, have doors weighing nine tons each, windows three feet thick. The whole structure is lined with three-eights of an inch of steel plate.

The rooms are dwarfed by a parent structure, which will house a million dollar atomic reactor. From the reactor and Atomic Energy Commission plants will come radioactive materials for experiments.

Scientists will stand outside the caves, where radiation will be weaker than that of an illuminated wrist watch dial. They will maneuver mechanical arms, so delicately contrived they can write or peel a banana — or handle "hot" atomic pots and pans and test tubes. In housecleaning after tests the mechanical arms will sweep scraps into lead containers to be carried away and deposited in a safe place. The walls will be washed down with hoses to remove other radioactivity. A special paint will make the job easier.

COP AND ROBBERS

BOSTON (UP) — A cop stationed at a hospital usually doesn't get the opportunity to solve a robbery. Patrolman John McCarthy did so without leaving his hospital beat. He noticed two youths dividing a large number of quarters. One was waiting for treatment of a cut hand. McCarthy investigated and got the pair to confess that they had just broken into a tavern and were dividing the loot.

The beautiful Bel Air Sport Coupe with Body by Fisher

For sheer fun out on the road, Chevrolet's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!

Up to this year, maybe there were reasons for wanting one of the higher-priced cars. If you demanded something really special in the way of driving fun, you simply had to pay a premium to get it.

Not any more! The Motoramic Chevrolet has changed all that. Who could wish for more excitement than the new 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" delivers? (For those who do, 180-h.p. is optional at extra cost in all V8 models.) Chevrolet also offers the two highest powered sixes in its field.

Come in and see how the Motoramic Chevrolet is stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!

Railroads Claim Support Of Public Is Being Won

WASHINGTON (UP) — Better service better equipment and improved public relations have resulted in greater passenger satisfaction with rail travel according to a recently completed survey

The survey, conducted by the Federation for Railway Progress, showed that of the hundreds of reports received from passengers last year, 64 per cent were complimentary while in 1948 this figure was only 42 per cent

The reports after being reviewed in the federation s passenger relations office are forwarded to the presidents of the railroads concerned

A Comark® product

Made of advanced VINYLITE Vinyl Film

Guaranteed by Good Housekeeping

Con-Tact, a product of Cohn-Hall-Marx Co., is the dream covering you've been waiting for! Now you can renew, protect and beautify so many things in your home . . . cover cabinets, walls, line drawers, closets, shelves. Decorate unpainted furniture, splashproof the area behind the sink or shower, protect surfaces from grime, fingermarks and soil.

We have just the Con-Tact patterns to help you . . . wood grains and marble effects, solids and stripes, kitchen, decorative and nursery prints. Easy to wipe clean with a damp cloth.

Quick and simple to apply . . . just measure and cut Con-Tact to size of area to be covered, peel off protective paper backing and put it on practically any dust-free, dry, flat surface.
